McCarthy Asks Watkins To Be Early Witness

Wants Senator To Tell Who Promoted
Peress To Major

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), fighting censure charges, today asked Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) to testify before the McCarthy subcommittee and tell who was "culpable" in the Peress case.

Watkins is the chairman of a special committee of three Republican and three Democratic senators that unanimously recommended in a Sept. 27 report that McCarthy be censured by the senate.

A special Senate session has been called for Nov. 8, the week after the congressional elections, to act on the recommendation.

McCarthy made public today a letter in which he invited Watkins to testify before the Senate Investigations subcommittee, sometime prior to Nov. 8, about Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker's role in the Maj. Irving Peress case.

Peress, a New York City dentist, has been described by McCarthy as a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

One of the counts on which the special committee recommended McCarthy's censure was the way in which, as chairman of the investigations subcommittee, he questioned Zwicker last Feb. 18 about promotion and honorable discharge of Peress.

The special committee called McCarthy's conduct toward Zwicker, a much decorated combat veteran, "reprehensible" and "inexcusable."

McCarthy wrote Watkins that the committee's report "indicates that you must have some information as to who was culpable for the promotion and honorable discharge of Peress and some information as to who was culpable."

40 Former POWs May Be Tried By Court-Martial

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—The Army said tonight it has ousted 15 GI's after investigating charges of misconduct while they were war prisoners of the Chinese-Korean Communists. Forty others may face court-martial. None was named.

Of the 15 12 have been given undesirable discharges and 3 "general" discharges. The Army announcement said the 15 cases "where the evidence of wrongful conduct did not warrant court-martial action."

About 40 other cases remain pending which may result in court-martial action. The Army said after noting that four former prisoners have been tried and sentenced on charges of various acts of misconduct or violation of laws governing military conduct while a prisoner of the enemy.

About 3,200 officers and men returned after the end of fighting a year ago were interrogated, the army said, and after a careful screening of all cases, about 225 were found "to warrant further intensive study." When this was done, all but 40 were eliminated from the possibility of court-martial "because of insufficient conclusive evidence."

The cases have been turned over to continental Army commanders in the United States for further study and action.

Included in the latest report by the commission were two fatalities, caused when hunters were killed by their own guns fired as they crawled through fences.

Probe Of Demo Candidate For Senate Slated

Glen Taylor Of Idaho Accused Of Former Red Ties

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A move by Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) for a congressional hearing spotlighting Idaho's Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, Glen Taylor, added new fuel to that state's crackling political campaign today.

Taylor bolted the Democratic party in 1948 to run for vice president on the Progressive party ticket headed by Henry A. Wallace.

Welker ordered the hearing yesterday after Taylor protested his release of testimony by two former FBI agents who said Taylor sought Communist support for his third party stand six years ago.

The testimony was taken by Welker in Washington earlier in the month as chairman of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee. Taylor blasted it as a "one-man hearing" held "for political purposes."

He challenged Welker to subpoena him and hear his side in Idaho, and before Nov. 2.

Welker said at first that would be impossible, later changed his mind. He, Welker ordered subcommittee Counsel Richard Arens to organize the staff and come to Boise.

He offered to step aside as chairman so Taylor "cannot weasel out of the appearance which he requested on the ground that I am biased."

The charges by ex-agents Matthew Cvetik, Herbert Philbrick and others were that Taylor and Wallace knew that Communists "controlled" the Progressive party, yet still accepted their support.

Sen. Johnson (D-S.C.) said he detected a move "to investigate Glen Taylor," adding, "I certainly hope the voters will be on guard against any last minute smears of any candidate."

Meanwhile Taylor, who faces Idaho Sen. Henry Dworshak in the race, denounced "this whole sordid affair" as "politically motivated."

He told a Pocatello rally last night that Welker had perpetrated "a smear that outdoes anything ever attempted by Joe McCarthy in violating every American's idea of decency and fair play."

Taylor said he would appear at the hearing, but challenged Welker to testify under oath "as to the propriety of his obviously political acts" and to submit to cross examination.

'Jes' Ramblin'

As a quarter of century has rolled around since the Young Women's Christian Association was established in Monroe, this worthy organization has filled a most essential service to the community. Many a young woman has found home that has been surrounded by wholesome atmosphere while she is employed in many cases in the city. She has been shielded from influences that might be detrimental to character—building for usually it is for girls away from home and the protection of one's family.

The institution here has been exceptionally fortunate in the selection of board members, who have gladly given of their time and energy.

Deluge Of Letters Follows Joe Cooper Incident

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story about young Joe Cooper and his deluge of letters for national distribution is an Associated Press feature.)

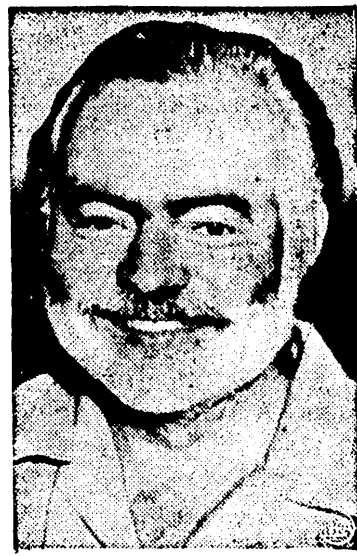

By MICH MULLIGAN
WEST MONROE, La., Oct. 23 (AP)—A "Eau Claire, Wis., woman wrote: 'I've never been so riled up about anything in my life.'"

In Indianapolis, another busy secretary wrote: "Indianapolis is shocked."

A Canadian penned the same thing about "All Canada, including my landlord, and he won't let us keep a dog."

And, that's how it has been with 10-year-old Joe Cooper, widow's son and school marble champion who was hustled into a reformatory Oct. 5, four hours after he tried to save his dog, Tippi, from the city gas chamber by waving a loaded shotgun.

Army Is Adapting Atomic Shells To Ordinary Cannon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—The Army disclosed tonight it has started out on a program to use atomic shells in a wide variety of its conventional artillery.

A terse and oblique reference in a speech by Asst. Secretary George H. Roderick contained the first official revelation of the extent to which nuclear weapons are being adapted to battlefield and defense use.

Roderick's address, prepared for a Republican gathering at Bellefonte, Pa., was devoted largely to the Army's progress in reorganization.

Mentioning the 280 mm cannon which can fire an atomic shell up to 30 miles, Roderick called it the "first of a series of guns capable of delivering an atomic projectile."

His comment seemed to mean that reduction of the atomic weapon from its original massive size as a bomb to fit into the approximate 11-inch bore of the 280 mm cannon was only the beginning of the "miniaturization" of atomic ammunition.

In answer to a question, an Army spokesman said tonight that manufacture of the 280 mm gun has been stopped because "requirements for the current calendar year are fulfilled." He said it was possible production might be resumed.

However, disclosure of the project to adapt atomic shells to smaller, standard calibers of guns suggested that no need for more 280 mm guns might exist. The big, 85-ton gun and its twin-tracker carriage cost an estimated $800,000 to one million dollars each.

Roderick's comment seemed to mean that the new project contemplates production of nuclear shells to be fired from guns as small as 120 mm or 90 mm. Those calibers are used in several mounts, including the 120 mm for the new, heavy T43 tank and the 90 mm in medium tanks.

Maximum horizontal range of the 120 mm gun is about 14 miles; of the 90 mm gun, about 11 miles.

Either of these ranges is well beyond the zone at which injury or damage to friendly forces on a battlefield might occur from atomic shellfire explosion. In a test of the 280 mm cannon, using nuclear ammunition, the explosion occurred at a point slightly over seven miles from unprotected observers. In training of troops under atomic bombardment conditions, tactical-size atomic bombs have been detonated at distances as close as one and a half miles from troops sheltered in slit trenches.

Letters and telegrams, hundreds carrying donations, descended on this bustling little paper mill town on the Ouachita River. Some were delivered at the unpainted, unlighted, $20-a-month shack where Joe lived with his 63-year-old mother and 17-year-old half-sister.

Others went to the mayor, the judge, the police chief, the school board, almost anyone who might listen.

Atty. Murphy Blackwell, who volunteered for the boy's defense was swamped with mail.

Legally, it was a simple case. The dog, unvaccinated and of assorted pedigree, followed Joe's bike to school. The principal locked the animal in a closet and sent for the transient officer and dog catcher.

Joe tried to play liberator with the family shotgun and a single shell bought with his 20 cents lunch

Missouri Convict Is Killed In Riot

37 Prisoners
Are Injured At Jefferson City

Racial Trouble Is Blamed For Latest
Serious Disorders

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 23—UP—A major riot at the Missouri penitentiary took the life of one convict, left 37 others injured and touched off a "brief flareup" Saturday night at the women's prison a half mile away.

It was the third serious disturbance within a month at the penitentiary. Officials described it as a "race riot" with Negro prisoners involved for the first time. Both outbreaks were quelled rapidly.

Prison guards, reinforced by heavily armed highway patrolmen, got the penitentiary riot "under control" at 3:15 p.m. CST, an hour and a half after it erupted in the dining hall.

About four hours later, the women inmates staged their disturbance. That demonstration was halted within 20 minutes.

Officials said about 20 women prisoners, apparently in a state of excitement because of the riot at the men's prison, started screaming and setting beds ablaze.

A clash between Negro and white convicts touched off the outbreak at the men's prison. Warden Ralph Edison said that one white inmate was killed, shot by guards, and he listed the 37 injured as being 24 white and 12 Negro convicts. Two were described as in "very serious" condition.

Nearly 1,000 prisoners from two cell buildings were involved. The state prison has been the scene of unrest since a month ago when four convicts were killed during a $5 million riot. Several buildings were burned and scores of prisoners were injured at that time before troops stopped it.

The riot began in the dining hall of B and C building when about 500 white convicts started out after their meal. Negro prisoners from "A" hall were lined up to march in. They started yelling at the

Partly Cloudy And Mild Today

Louisiana will be partly cloudy and mild today and Monday, according to last night's government weather bureau forecast. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected in the west portion today and in the north and west portions tomorrow.

Arkansas, it was predicted, will be partly cloudy and mild today with scattered showers and thunderstorms in the southwest portion. Monday is expected to be mostly cloudy with scattered showers and local thunderstorms, turning colder in the northwest portion.

CAA officials at the Selman Field station last night reported that the high here yesterday was 80 degrees. The low for the day was 53 degrees.

The mayor of Monroe took umbrage at the latter designation and issued a pronouncement in the effect that West Monroe, across the river, and not his bailiwick, was involved.

But it had little effect, for letter writers in Alaska, Hawaii, the British West Indies and nearly every state in the Union have an unshakable faith in the ability of the Post Office Department to decipher such addresses as: "Tippie's Master, La., 'The Boy Who Saved His Dog, Monroe,' or, simply, 'Joe and His Dog, West Monroe.'"

As the tidal wave of public opinion rolled in, Judge Howell Heard ordered a new hearing, took the case under advisement and indicated the next decision would take some time.

French Accept Compromise In Saar Dispute

Sec. Dulles Hails
Success Of Paris
15-Nation Parley

PARIS, Oct. 23 (AP)—In ceremonies of the greatest historic significance, 15 Western nations signed agreements today to bring 500,000 returned West Germans into the Allied defensive alliance against Communist aggression. The action brought immediate and unfavorable Soviet reaction.

The last hurdle was dramatically cleared by an 11th hour compromise settlement of the long and acrimonious dispute between France and West Germany over the future of the coal-steel rich Saar—once German, now tied economically to France.

As the foreign ministers solemnly affixed their signatures to the pact, the Soviet Union denounced them as war-breeding instruments. In notes to the United States, Britain and France the Russians proposed once again that the Big Four meet next month and wrestle with the German problem—on Soviet terms.

All agreements reached today are subject to parliamentary ratification. This may be difficult in France and West Germany where many political leaders favor another try at ending the cold war with Russia first.

Aside from the Saar agreement—which isn't textually final as yet—these things were done:

1. The United States, Britain, France and Germany agreed to end the Allied occupation of West Germany and to restore all but full sovereignty to the West Germans.

2. Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, West Germany and Italy joined in an enlarged Brussels pact which contains more definite controls over (Continued On Ninth Page)

Russia Asks New Talks On German Reunification

MOSCOW, Oct. 23—UP—Soviet Russia offered Saturday to "reconsider" Western proposals for a Big Four foreign ministers conference next month to discuss the problems of reunification of Germany.

Identical notes delivered to the ambassadors of the United States, Great Britain and France marked the opening of a major Soviet diplomatic offensive designed to block the rearmament of West Germany.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov handed the Soviet notes to the Big Four a diplomatic move shortly before the Western powers and their allies began signing the documents in Paris which will restore West German sovereignty and authorize creation of a 500,000-man German defense force.

Germany, split between East and West since the end of World War II, could not be unified "for a long period of time" if the new Western agreements came into force, the notes said.

The Soviet note outlined a three-point alternative plan for German unity and European security.

They warned that West Germany cannot be considered a "peaceful" state if it remains in accordance with the Paris agreements.

The notes were blunt in their attack on the new nine-power agreement.

With Important Issues On Ballot, Louisiana's Voters Very Apathetic

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana is approaching a general election Nov. 2 with weather-vanes swinging toward a featherweight vote despite key political decisions on the ballot.

Rain or shine, experienced observers are predicting a vote turnout of 35 per cent downward—and yet important issues will be decided.

They include a Louisiana way to bypass the school segregation ruling, a 10 million dollar Korean War bonus and annual sessions of the Legislature.

A well known north Louisiana legislator, who helped dispatch the 31 constitutional amendments to the ballot, said "I never in my life have seen people so little interested in an election."

A south Louisiana legislative leader, also preferring not to be quizzed by name, guessed "less than 17 per cent . . . people are just not talking about the election."

Best optimist is Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., the state's election overlord, who ventured the 35 per cent level.

He links his estimate to a similar election in 1950 when voters approved 16 of 24 constitutional revisions.

In one-party Louisiana, the lack of a presidential or gubernatorial free-for-all brings quiet to the precincts.

U.S. Sen. Allen J. Ellender and eight Louisiana congressmen are up for reelection. But they deal only with a formality. All except Rep. F. Edward Hebert of New Orleans are unopposed. Republican George Reese Jr., again is competing against Hebert, after losing a 2-to-1 decision two years ago.

While latest state registration figures have not been assembled, the director of the State Board of Registration views the registration total by election time at around 865,000—with luck. It was 849,000 in the July 27 primary.

A glance at recent voting history supports chances of the thinclad vote.

The Kennon program of 34 constitutional changes passed in 1952, with the key civil service issue drawing 306,198 for and 90,003 against. That was the presidential year.

Two years earlier, 16 of 24 constitutional amendments were adopted, with voting in the 250,000 range. Earl Long's 140 million dollar highway bond issue died 100,000 to 150,000.

In 1948, when the so-called "power grab" amendments stirred conflict, 36.8 per cent of registered voters trooped to the polling places. The 60 million dollar veterans bonus was adopted at that time.

Since 1930, the percentage of voters taking part in statewide bond elections has ranged from 12 to 44.9 per cent.

An affirmative vote of 8 per cent gave victory to one of the constitutional revisions along the way. Indifference is not always to blame for slim voting. Conscientious voters may be discouraged by difficulty in understanding proposed amendments, oft couched in steeply technical language.

Newspapers and radio stations have been trying to eliminate that hazard for the upcoming vote. They have been pushing public explanations.

To encourage voting, Leander Perez, who manufactures political surprises by the carload, suggested putting off the Nov. 1 opening of the duck season.

But Wild Life and Fisheries Commission members asked about the idea just shake the heads— "Don't blame it on the ducks," they answer.

COLLEGIATE

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Here's a new gimmick for college students looking for an after-school job and some extra cash. City Commissioner Stanley J. Davis says he's drawn up a plan which would authorize students at the city's two colleges to ticket cars parked overtime at parking meters. Davis said the plan would release members of the police force for more important duties.

Chas. Godchaux Services Today In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Charles Godchaux, board chairman emeritus of Godchaux Sugars Inc.

Godchaux, 85, died early today in his suburban Metairie home about one week after he relinquished his stock in the sugar firm and announced his retirement as chairman of the board.

He was the sole surviving son of the late Leon Godchaux, who founded the various Godchaux interests after coming to this country from France in 1839.

Godchaux had been associated with Godchaux Sugars Inc., for 68 years. He served as president of the firm since its incorporation in 1919 until 1953 when he was elected chairman of the board.

At the time of his death, Godchaux was vice president and a director of the Leon Godchaux Clothing Co. Ltd.

tended the University of Louisiana, now Tulane University, and Phillips-Exeter Academy in Exeter, N.H. He was active in civic and philanthropic affairs.

Survivors include his widow, two daughters, a sister, five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

New Mechanical Bowl Success In Cow Roundups

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 23 (AP)—Weary cattlemen can take heart in a new car horn designed to take the work out of rounding up cows. It sounds like a lovesick Holstein.

The horn was developed by livestock men who had noted the success hunters have in luring moose with an imitation mating call blasted through a horn.

Dr. E. Carlson, federal district veterinarian, said the new mechanical bowl "works like a charm."

"I don't know whether it has sex appeal or what," he added, "but cows seem to fall for it every time."

Talent Show On College Campus Slated Nov. 11

High school students and residents of communities in northeast Louisiana will combine their talents with those of students from Northeast State to stage a talent show on the college campus on the evening of November 11. It is sponsored by the Future Teachers of America chapter at Northeast.

A former professional fire-eater who has toured the show circuits for many years, adagio dancers, a magician, dance groups, and many other talented acts will be included in the program, according to Willard Beaver, chairman of the show for the FTA.

Area high schools are being invited to participate, Beaver said. Already there are commitments from Rayville High for a jazz band, and from LTI for a musical group. Miss Mary Lou Young's dance class will appear in a production number.

Music for most of the acts will be provided by the newly organized dance orchestra at Northeast State, under the direction of Albert Ellis, college freshman. This show will be the band's first public appearance.

First, second, and third prizes will be given in the talent show, in the form of gold cups, to the performers judged to have been the best.

Tickets for the event will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, and may be purchased at the office of Dean William M. Smith on the Northeast State campus, or from members of the Future Teachers of America.

Wildlife Group To Meet Tuesday

The Ouachita parish chapter of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Booster Hall at the Missouri Pacific yards, J. B. Thoman, publicity chairman, said yesterday.

Business discussion at the meeting will be on the proposed public duck hunting areas, Thoman said, including a shooting area in Morehouse parish.

The area will take in Silo slough, and Big Elbo and Little Elbo, Thoman said, with Silo slough being dammed to provide water for the area.

Thoman said the area will be controlled and the wood will be protected.

"About all we are waiting for now is a big rain to fill it up," he said. The water will be shallow and is expected to attract types of ducks which prefer shallow water to deep.

Charles Phillips, education and publicity director for the state Wildlife Federation, will show a technicolor film on the habits of quails at the meeting Tuesday, and Thoman urged all interested persons to attend.

"It took several years to make the film," he said.

Constitutional Amendments

Thirty-one proposals for amendment of Louisiana's Constitution will be before the voters in the general election November 2nd—a week from Tuesday.

Some of these amendments are essential to political, economic or social welfare of the State and should be passed. Some are detrimental to public welfare and should be defeated.

Others are of purely local interest to various localities, but under the obsolete constitutional system of this state must be voted on by everyone instead of only by the people directly affected.

The Morning World has studied the analyses of the 31 amendments by such independent organizations as the Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana, the Better Government Organization of New Orleans, and the local League of Women Voters. It has also consulted legislators who sponsored various amendments, and also Chambers of Commerce, civic leaders and newspaper editors in areas where a proposed amendment is of strictly localized application.

On the basis of these studies, The World will—starting today—present its own conclusions on each of the 31 amendments, doing this as a service to readers who cannot possibly find time to inform themselves adequately through their own research. Presented below is the opinion of this paper on three proposed amendments, with others to be discussed from time to time between now and election day.

No. 16—The Segregation Amendment

Passage of this amendment, which was supported strongly by The World when it was before the State Legislature last summer, is essential to give the people of Louisiana the means—through their elected State government—to take such further proper and legal steps as may be available to maintain segregation in their public schools under the system of separate but equal facilities.

The present United States Supreme Court ruling against segregation deals with schools functioning under educational agencies of the various states.

Amendment No. 16 would provide that Louisiana primary and secondary schools be operated under the police powers of the state, these powers being specifically reserved to the States by the 10th Amendment to the Federal Constitution—in the Bill of Rights.

The United States Supreme Court never has ruled on a school segregation issue where the inherent and constitutional police powers of a State were involved.

Amendment No. 16 states that separate Louisiana public schools will be operated for white and Negro children "in the exercise of the state police power to promote and protect public health, morals, better education and peace and good order in the State, and not because of race."

This amendment also authorizes the State Legislature, in regular or special session, to submit constitutional amendments to the people, on public school segregation only, at special elections instead of only at general elections at which State Legislators or Federal Congressmen are elected.

With passage of this amendment, it would become possible for the State Legislature to submit segregation issues to the people quickly instead of waiting as much as two years, as is the case now.

The amendment does not vest any new authority in the Legislature except the authority to let the people themselves decide possible future segregation issues in the quickest possible manner.

The 1954 Legislature appointed a Joint Legislative Committee of five Senators and five Representatives to study the United States Supreme Court ruling, and its order at some future date making the ruling effective, and to draft legislation to maintain segregation in Louisiana public schools if legal and constitutional means to do so can be found.

This Joint Committee holds that passage of Amendment No. 16 is essential if it is to function effectively. For that reason The World endorsed this amendment in the Legislature and urges its passage by the people now.

The issue is not whether a State's constitutional police powers may be held paramount or thrown aside in later court decisions, but simply whether the State of Louisiana, through its elected government, peacefully may exhaust all possible legal recourses in the question of segregation or integration in its public schools.

Some negro leadership wisely is supporting this amendment. The World believes it should have support from voters of all races.

No. 22—A Botched Up Proposal

Amendment No. 22 started out as an excellent proposal by Rep. James C. Gardner of Shreveport—now mayor-elect of that city—to compel all future State bond issues to be submitted to the people for their decision in statewide referendum instead of merely through majority action of the Legislature and signature of the Governor—as was the case with approximately $100,000,000 in bonds saddled onto the taxpayers of Louisiana by the 1954 Legislature.

The Senate, apparently quivering in its boots over passage of the $100,000,000 in bonds without submission to the people, and facing questions of constitutionality of $50,000,000 in highway bonds involved, amended the Gardner resolution so that while passage of it would ban future legislative bond issues, it also would approve the $100,000,000 legislative issues already passed by the legislature.

As Rep. Wellborn Jack of Shreveport put it at that time, this was a case of forcing the voter to shoot himself with his own pistol. To prevent future evil he would have to endorse present evil.

But not even this bit of political skullduggery satisfied those who were operating behind the scenes at Baton Rouge. They proceeded to further botch up the whole Gardner proposal by including another provision which would nullify—remove from the State Constitution in toto—the present ban against disposal by any Legislature of state land without retention of mineral rights, and against legislative disposal of mineral or other rights in river, lake and stream bottoms for other than reclamation purposes. If this amendment passes, there will be no constitutional protection against future legislative disposal of these natural resources, which belong to the people.

Because the evils in this amendment so obviously outweigh the good of preventing future State administrations from following the course of the Kennon administration on legislative bond issues in both the 1952 and 1954 sessions, Amendment 22 is opposed by most of the newspapers and better government organizations of the State, a position in which we concur.

The proper course in this case is to defeat Amendment 22 and then support passage of the original Gardner amendment at the next session of the legislature, with the constitutionality of the $50,000,000 legislative highway bond issue taken into the courts in a friendly suit in the meantime to determine its validity as quickly as possible.

No. 13—Water Conservation Step

This amendment would authorize the first major water conservation step in Louisiana by setting up the Southwest Louisiana Water Conservation District, embracing 11 parishes and part of a twelfth.

The District would have authority, through constitutionally limited taxation and revenue bonds within its own boundaries, to conserve and regulate fresh water supplies in a part of the state where lack of fresh water has become more and more critical through the years, not only for municipal supplies but for agricultural irrigation, especially in the big rice producing areas.

The parishes included are Acadia, Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron, Evangeline, Iberia, Jefferson Davis, Lafayette, St. Landry, Vermilion and that part of St. Martin west of the Atchafalaya river.

Submission of this amendment to the people of the state culminates several years of effort by political and civic leaders and organizations of the area involved. The World believes that it should be passed although there are factors in its proposals subject to criticism.

For one thing, the time will come when a statewide Water Conservation Authority probably will be necessary for Louisiana—and many other states—and statewide approach is better in principle than regional approach in such matters. The water shortage situation is becoming a nationwide problem as a result of repeated droughts, but since the time apparently is not here for statewide action in Louisiana, the people of Southwest Louisiana ask authority to go ahead on their own in trying to solve their own drought problems. But, they must have the approval of the whole state's electorate before they can act.

The proposed Southwest Louisiana Water Conservation District has evolved, through the years, from joint studies by the federal Geological Survey and the State Department of Public Works. The State Legislature of 1952 appropriated $150,000 for further study, and the 1954 Legislature has set aside $600,000 for State work in the proposed District, if the amendment is passed.

In all probability, the time will come when the Southwest Louisiana Water Conservation District—if established—will have to be molded into a statewide water conservation organization, but there is no reason to hold up such action in an area covering nearly one-fifth of the State's parishes if the people there want to take the needed action and bear the major cost themselves.

What Is The ADA?

A prominent Socialist summed it up: "The national program of the ADA is so close to that of the Socialist Party that the Socialist national committee recently passed a resolution saying that membership in the ADA was politically compatible."

The ADA itself announced that it "supports liberal candidates." It has urged ever bigger government, rigid price and other government controls, and socialized medicine. Leaders defend the ADA by asserting that it is a liberal group which opposed Communism. Look at the record:

In its first annual convention in Philadelphia in 1948, the ADA, according to the Milwaukee Journal, opposed all proposals to outlaw "the Communist or any other political party."

The 1948 ADA convention also asserted, "We do not abandon hope in the possibility of co-existing peacefully with the Soviet Union."

The ADA went even further: "We must seek to collaborate with the USSR on all questions where collaboration is possible." (To show the inconsistency, this same ADA convention poured out its vitriol on Spain and urged that measures be taken to overthrow France's government.)

The ADA has consistently opposed measures to curb the Communist menace in the United States:

... It opposed the Mundt Bill to control communism in 1948.

... It opposed the Communist Control bill in Illinois in 1949.

... It opposed the Communist Control bill of 1950.

... It opposed a Maryland Communist Control Bill in 1950.

... It opposed the Smith Act in 1952 (55 Communists have been tried and jailed under this law).

Here is the ADA record since its organization in 1947: 1948—Opposed any military aid to Nationalist China (then fighting for its life against the Reds).

1949—Scoffed at FBI: "The Judith Coplon trial has served one laudable purpose. It has given the people a chance to see how silly an FBI report can really be." ... ADA World, June, 1949.

Defended Communist student groups: We "affirm most strongly the right of Communist student organizations to organize on an equal basis with other student organizations and to invite any speaker of their choice." ... Second Annual Convention.

Attacked the House un-American Activities Committee and urged that it be abolished. ... ADA World, January, 1949.

1950—Urged that U. S. withdraw recognition of Nationalist China. Later advocated admission of Red China into the UN.

1951—Endorsed Truman's removal of General MacArthur.

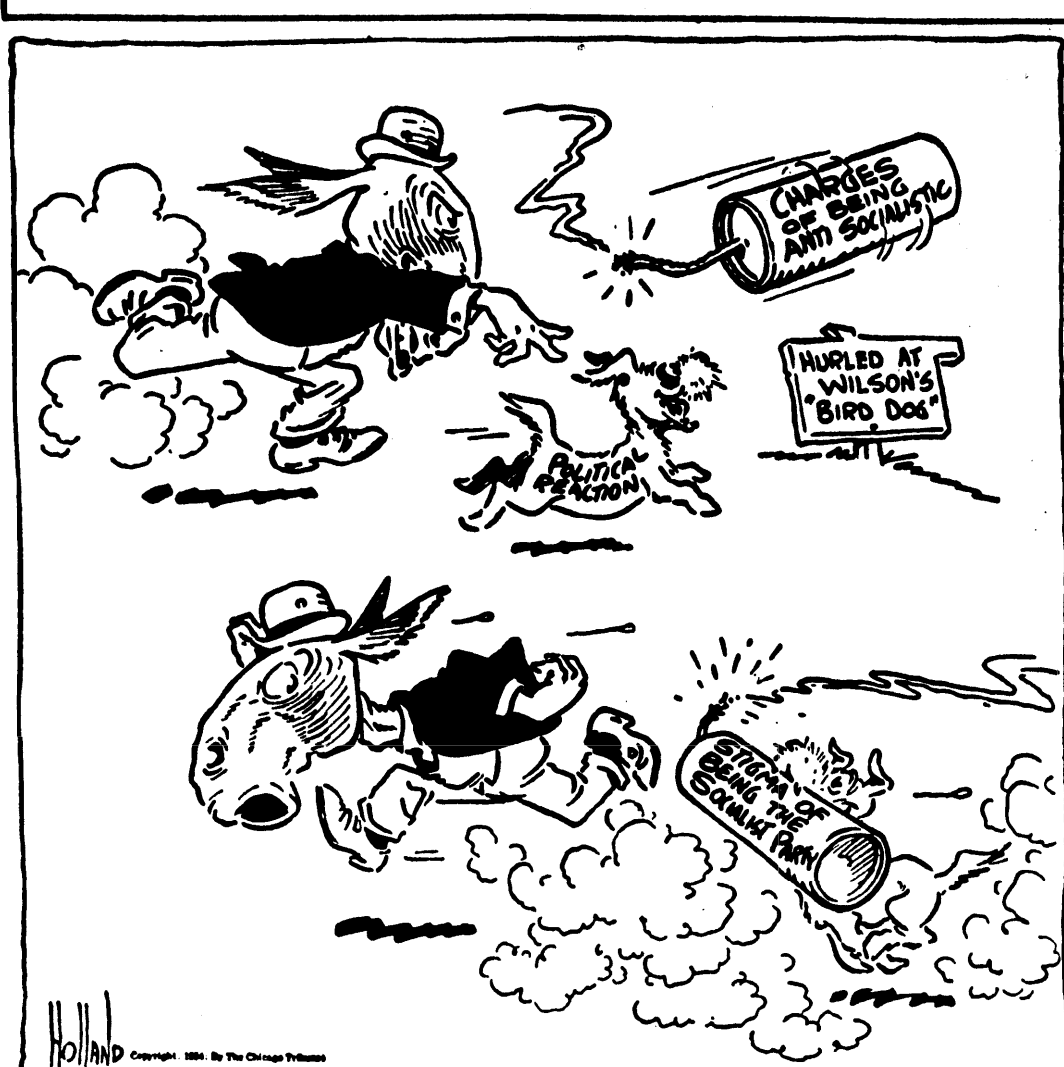

Defended the Institute of Pacific Relations. "It sought, it said, to do a scholarly job of presenting a variety of viewpoints. A mere glance at its publication list will support this claim." (The IPR was found by a Senate Committee to be an instrument of Soviet policy.)

1952—Condemned loyalty oaths for teachers. ... 1952 ADA Convention.

Called for investigation of The American Legion's anti-Communist publication, the "Firing Line."

Contended that "the burden of proof of disloyalty must be on the government" in order to fire government em-

The Honorable And Able—Camille Gravel

West Monroe, La.
Editor, Morning World:

I often admire your editorials, though I must confess I disagree with you more often, perhaps, than I agree — and especially is this true with respect to your recent editorial entitled — "Thanks, Judge Perez."

I hold Judge Perez in high esteem — admiring his oft demonstrated legal ability, and thoroughly agree with his interpretation of the "off-shore boundary lines" of our state.

I would not go so far, perhaps, as to endorse all of his "democratic" activities — feeling that to do so might be at some slight variance with ideal democratic practices. However, my complaint to you sir, is not that you have highly praised Judge Perez, but is that you have editorially attributed to our Democratic national committee, The Honorable Camille Gravel, certain somewhat less than flattering characteristics.

Mr. Gravel is an able leader, accomplished in the field of political science, and we believe that he will assist us in all proper relations with our national Democratic party, to the end that we may again experience a Democratic victory, and share in the just political rewards of such a victory.

To accomplish this political purpose, Louisiana Democrats have chosen as their liaison representative with the national party, the Honorable Camille Gravel, of Alexandria, La.

Mr. Gravel maintains close personal contact with all worthwhile agencies, and persons, having a similar goal — and I now respectfully inquire, is that goal so low and mean — even in haste — Mr.

plays.

Opposed bill to permit FBI to tap telephone conversations of suspected Communists.

1953—Defended Fifth-Amendment teachers. "Refusal to testify under the Fifth Amendment should not be automatic grounds to disqualify a teacher."

1954—Opposed bill which would give immunity to Fifth-Amendment witnesses, and thereby require them to testify about their Communist activities.

WHO SUPPORTS ADA?

Some leaders are:

Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., who said: "The faults and injustices in our present system which make even freedom loving Americans look wistfully at Russia."

Adlai Stevenson: "They (the Soviets) want friendly relations just as much as we do."

Eleanor Roosevelt: "Smearing good people like Alger Hiss is unforgivable."

Joe Lash: Officer of Communist-front American Youth Congress.

Francis Henson: "I am a Marxist."

Miscellaneous other left-wingers:

Francis Biddle	Herbert Lehman
Robert Nathan	Alsup Brothers
Hubert Humphrey	Marquis Childs
Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.	Chester Bowles
Marshall Field, Jr. (contributor)	Wilson Wyatt
John Hoving, former political writer for Milwaukee Journal.

Averill Harriman (contributor).

The ADA has given itself one of its strongest indictments. A speech of ADAer Archibald MacLeish, published in full in the February, 1951, ADA World concludes as follows:

"People like ourselves, liberals in politics and life, have one common professional deformation. We are reluctant to act. We understand very well—far better than the dogmatists of the two extremes—the real nature of a given political situation. Indeed it is our characteristic quality so to understand, for a liberal is by nature a disinterested man—a man who is more concerned with the human truth than with the partisan advantage of some preconceived opinion. But precisely because we see more clearly what must be done we are more reluctant, or so it seems, to do it. In the present critical situation in our country that weakness becomes something more than weakness. It becomes a kind of treason to our country and ourselves."

his name, instead of some dictators pocket.

When Mr. Hopkins said his little girl would go to school with Negroes only over his dead body, he perhaps didn't realize just what he said for if the people of the United States felt as he did, there would not be any free schools, no democratic system of government and most of all no religion for the worship of God on which makes our country what it is—a free nation. Probably Mr. Hopkins doesn't realize just how free our country really is, for probably he has never been persecuted for going to church, for owning his own home or for not paying his salary to the czar or dictator or maybe he has not been placed in a concentration camp and treated worse than a wild animal. I'm positive in saying he would not like this at all, but this is what he is trying to do to the Negroes who in turn only want to live and make a secure home for themselves.

When Mr. Hopkins reads this (if it is published), he will probably start off, by saying why that Negro loiterer doesn't know the situation here in the south; the guy that wrote that letter hasn't seen how things really exist here. But he would be so wrong, for I was born and raised in Louisiana, and upon my discharge from the navy, I shall return there to make it my home, and I know how things really are, and its things such as Mr. Hopkins letter that has helped me see the truth. I have never been away from these ghastly conditions long enough to realize that the colored people are receiving unfair treatment due to the fact that the white people are continuing to lie to themselves about the conditions that are real life.

It is for the betterment of the south and the nation that the Supreme Court has reached a decision of banning segregation, for in his way here will be more educated people and so return more intelligent citizens who will make it their duty for the advancement of all, instead of a group being a ball and chain which has slowed the south down in advancement, compared to other sections of the country.

EDWARD W. MARONEY

Has Found Way To Bypass Supreme Court Decision

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I have just now finished reading the Sunday Oct. 10, issue of the Morning World. First I always glance over the front page headlines, then I read the letters in the Forum. In today's Forum I read a letter from Mr. A. L. Hopkins of Dunn, La. I would like very much to meet and shake hands with Mr. Hopkins. He said that if his little girl ever goes to school with Negroes it will be over his dead body. This would involve violence and unlawful procedure which would make matters much worse. There is an age old saying, "where there is a will there is a way." One of the maxims of Equity says, "there is no wrong without a remedy."

The 1954 Legislature presented the people with a constitutional amendment for ratification, prohibiting integration of Negroes into white schools. I haven't read the text of this amendment, and I intend to vote for it, but, unless it is framed in accordance with the Constitution of the United States, the Supreme Court will annul it. Since they made this tumultuous decision on May 17, 1954, I have been searching for legal ways to bypass this decision, and I have found one. After reading and analyzing dozens of Supreme Court decisions, I find that the Supreme Court's jurisdiction does not extend lower than reviewing states cases. It does not extend to political or individual matters. Such cases belong to state courts.

To make a long story short: parishes or counties are individual subdivisions of the state, in which the people hold their right of self-government. They have their legislative bodies, the police juries, and "school boards" vested with power to supervise their own governments, over which the Supreme Court has no jurisdiction so long as they are not "aided financially" by the states, or controlled in any way by the "state board of education." However, the states can apportion dividends to parishes for general purposes without incriminating the school boards. Therefore, the people have the unalienable right to conduct their local schools just as they "daddy" please so long as they receive no direct aid from the states. But any system contrary to this system, the Supreme Court will certainly upset it. Now don't fool yourselves. We must abolish this contradictory system we now have and adopt a more Democratic form of home rule.

In Answer To Mr. Hopkins—

San Diego, Calif.

Editor, Morning World:

I have been reading your public forum for several weeks now of which I have noticed a great many of the letters concerning racial integration. I am especially referring to a letter published on 10 October 1954, which was written by Mr. A. L. Hopkins of Dunn, Louisiana. In Mr. Hopkins letter he considers himself a true and loyal American, he even goes to say, "I can only speak for myself as a real red-blooded American." This sounds great and real heroic, but from the text of his letter, this could never have been written by a loyal American, due to the fact he doesn't seem to know that America was founded in the belief of God; that everyone is created equal. A man would not make such derogatory statements of any person or group of people regardless of race, color or religion, if he believed in God.

In his statement degrading the Supreme Court which he said also, "That we can mind our business down here," (I would hate for such a man to mind any business of mind) he has done a great injustice in slandering the Supreme Court, of which stands for all justice and righteousness in the U. S. It is one of the governmental functions that keeps Mr. Hopkins free of slavery or from long tedious working hours with hardly any or no pay, or if Mr. Hopkins owns his business, the Supreme Court keeps it where he is able to keep his business where the income will be put in the bank in

Progress Or Stagnation

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:
A house divided against itself cannot stand, neither a community, city or nation, and at this moment this adage is applicable to the residents of Sunshine Heights, Splane, and McGuire subdivisions outside the city limits of West Monroe.

Most of us who reside in these areas bought property there because we wanted a little more elbow room, and not because we were trying to avoid the stigma of being city dwellers, also because we felt that it would be a little less expensive, which was an erroneous idea. The true facts reveal that at present we are paying rural rates on natural gas, twice the amount for water, and considerably more for fire insurance, not to mention garbage disposal.

The present proposed solution to our problem is no solution at all, in fact it can and will become an ogre more pretentious than could ever be possible if these areas were incorporated into the city of West Monroe.

It is my considered opinion that before committing ourselves to either proposition that we should have the benefit of competent counsel by a person or persons qualified to present the picture in its true perspective.

Most of us admit privately, and some of us publicly, that we are greatly interested in being a part of a growing, progressive community, and take particular delight in pointing out those accomplishments that spell progress.

I would not live in a community or city in which I was not civic minded enough to point with pride to its growth and development, or in which I was not interested.

Industry and people are attracted to a growing city, and it is my honest desire to see West Monroe attract industry and people, and as for myself I am anxious to be a part of this kind of a city.

Why can't we as citizens of the controversial areas say to the officials of the city of West Monroe, "Let us hear your proposition and if we like it we will buy it." If acceptable then all of us can help build West Monroe into a city that we can admit with pride is our home city.

Progress costs money, let's be sure we do not overlook the best value for our money. This is why I say let us get the facts before we act.

Peaceful Coexistence

Los Angeles, Calif.

Editor, Morning World:
Unless and until our leaders, our congress and our writers, all those who make or mold public opinion, learn to understand what the Communist means when he speaks of "peace, peace loving, peace seeking," we are doomed.

According to Lenin, capitalism "is the root of all evil. No man," he says, "is responsible for his acts or his thoughts." Again he states "the individual is nothing, just matter in motion. Only the people, the state, counts."

This means that it matters nothing whether you possess a hundred dollars, or a million, a very modest home, or a skyscraper. If you've been bitten by the bug of ambition, if you are an individualist, or even if your folks belong to those who have ever owned a home or a business, you are marked for liquidation or for "brainwashing" in one of their "hospitals," (concentration camps).

There are no neutrals. It matters not a bit if you are a J. Edgar Hoover, or a Sen. Flanders, a Sen. McCarthy or an Ed Murrow. There's nothing personal or vindictive about the process. The bourgeoisie must be liquidated.

To talk of "peaceful coexistence" is suicide. One doesn't fight a rattlesnake by tossing it a baby chick now and then, or a boar by staking out a goat. But, I wonder, is it possible for a people conditioned to, or at least almost to, "cradle to the grave security" to meet such a challenge? I don't know. And seemingly it is not possible for our administrations to "firm up" and do more than give away another country's land and people to buy a few months more of "peaceful coexistence."

Kennon For Vice-President

Dallas, Texas

Editor, Morning World:
Texas America's "Pivotal State" under the leadership of Governor Allan Shivers an exponent of Jeffersonian Democratic principals stood steadfast in refusing to surrender to the subversive element that was endeavoring to enslave the nation. In the Governors organization of America Governor Shivers was selected for his leadership over Adlai Stevenson (Dem.) then Governor of Illinois and Thomas Dewey (Rep.) Governor of New York State. These two Presidential aspirants have been repudiated by the people. Allen Shivers appointment by the 48 Governors to head their organization was not a political appointment, he was selected by both Democrats and Republicans for his outstanding State leadership administrative ability. When his tenure of office expired another outstanding Conservative Democrat was selected to succeed him Governor Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana. These two young and able statesmen are Presidential and Vice Presidential timber, they have started a movement to organize the Southern and other Democratic Governors for the purpose of rejuvenating and restoring the original Jeffersonian precepts in the Democratic party. They are imbued with the spirit of Americanism and allegiance to God and Country. State rights and grassroots politics, belief of Constitutional rights and privileges for all of the people.

The eyes of the people of America have been centered upon Allen Shivers and the Lone Star State the largest State in the Union, the first to "outlaw Communism", with a State Government free from corruption, with $30,000,000 in the State treasury, no state sales or income taxes. A Governor and people whom have the American fortitude to place Americanism above political party belief to preserve the American way of life.

The Conservative Democratic movement starting under Governor Allen Shivers leadership will gain momentum and will meet the approval and be accepted by all right thinking Americans. The Political philosophy and ideology of Communism, Liberalism and Old Guard Republicanism, that has created so much "havoc" in fellow Americans I present for your consideration Allen Shivers and Robert F. Kennon for the Democratic President and Vice President nominees for 1956.

How much I loved him, you could never understand unless you, too, have owned a pet.

I am a little ten year old girl, and I think I understand just how Joe Cooper felt when he was about to lose his "best friend" and pal, Tipsey.

"Butch" was given to me as a gift last Christmas - one I had long wanted. You see I had never owned but one dog before, and he took sick and died. I didn't like my dog just because he was a bird dog, any other would have done, but I loved him because of his friendliness and understanding. I've fed him, I've played with him, I've nursed him through sickness and I have petted and caressed him with a heart of joy. Now he is gone.

I've put a little money in my piggy bank and would gladly give it for the return of my dog. I just know that whoever you are you didn't stop to think that maybe the dog belonged to a child and was a pet. Maybe you didn't just take him, and he wandered to your home and you are feeding him, thinking he has no home. If so, won't you please let him go?

I think he is a pretty dog, and I am sure you do, too. But you can never love him as I do. So, won't you please forget the mistake and bring him back to me. If he is left on Bres Avenue, Monroe, La., he will come back to me. I am waiting and hoping "Butch" will find his way home.

Editor, Morning World:
No where in the seventy articles of the U. N.'s "International Court of Justice" are limitations imposed upon its powers. It is an exact antithesis of what our founding fathers believed a governing body should be.

No where in its preface or in the one hundred eleven (111) articles of the XIX chapters of the U. N. Charter is a Supreme Being mentioned.

During the deliberations producing the United States Constitution Ben Franklin addressed the assemblage: "I have lived a long time, Sirs, and the longer I live the more convincing proofs I see of this truth: That God governs all the affairs of men and if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, it is possible that an empire can rise without His aid? I believe that without His concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of the Tower of Babel. We ourselves shall become a reproach and a by-word through future ages."

Article 2 (1) of the U. N. Charter reads: "The Organization is based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all its members." The membership is composed of governments, not of peoples. Some governments signatory to the U. N. Charter are absolute dictatorships, one demands and would enforce the teaching "God is a myth and religion is an opiate of the masses", another tolerates a caste system wherein human beings are prenatally condemned to lifelong serfdom worse than any slavery yet known to mankind, several are despotic autocracies without trials by juries or appeals, and few are governments based upon the consent of the governed.

Not by executive fiat, legislative decree, nor by the wildest stretch of human imagination can this blessed land of wholly free people, the glorious old USA ever be reduced to such "equality".

It is as utterly impossible to legislate earthly equality among nations, races, or peoples as it is to do so within them. U. N.'s arrogant determination to do so defies all reason, belies Biblical prophecy, subverts constitutional government, and is contrary to every law of nature and nature's God.

"And when the thousand years are expired Satan shall be loosed out of prison to go out to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to summon them together to battle, the number of whom are as the sand of the sea."

Not until Gabriel sounds his trumpet will there be one-world government and it will then be most unworlly—all the one-world degooders, starchy-eyed theorists, with their hallucination of runaway Utopia to the contrary notwithstanding.

The United States should withdraw, forthwith, from the unholy nations, that monstrous machination foisted upon the American people under the misnomer: United Nations.

Kidd Is Named State Police Troop F Head

M. E. Kidd, former lieutenant at the Ruston station, has been named captain of Troop F, Louisiana state police, according to an announcement late Friday by Col. Francis Grevenberg in Baton Rouge. Kidd succeeds the late Capt. Roy Byrd, who died in August while head of the troop.

Capt. Kidd has been with the state police since September, 1944, having joined and worked with the organization in Baton Rouge and New Orleans, prior to being transferred to the Monroe district in July of 1945. He was a lieutenant for two years and for one year prior to this was sergeant.

A native of Choctawhatchee, the new captain attended the Choctawhatchee High School and later attended Louisiana Tech at Ruston. He transferred to the University of Arkansas, where he graduated in engineering.

Following graduation, Kidd went to South America, where he worked with a construction company in British Guiana and British West Indies areas. Later he returned to the United States and entered the Army.

Following discharge from the army he joined the state police organization.

Kidd is married to the former Miss Allie Mae Strickland of Berne. They have two children. They are presently living in Ruston, but will move to Monroe "within a few weeks."

Commissioners Of Game, Fish Group To Meet Oct. 31

The eighth annual conference of the Southeastern Association of Game and Fish Commissioners will be held in New Orleans Oct. 31 through Nov. 3. George C. Moore, chief of the fish and game division, has announced. The convention will be held at the Jung Hotel.

Highlights of the meeting will be an address by Governor Robert F. Kennon; Bud Jackson, field director of the national Wildlife Federation; and John L. Farley, director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D. C.

A program of interest to administrators, technicians and other game and fish commission representatives is being planned for the occasion. In addition entertainment will be provided for wives of conference members.

Civil Defense May Give Monroe Area Portion Of Funds

Monroe and the Ouachita Parish subdivisions of the state Civil Defense organization may be eligible for some of the $100,000 in federal CD administration matching funds during the 1955-56 fiscal year, Brig. Gen. Francis A. Woolley, state CD director, has announced. The money is being supplied by the federal organization for equipment and materials.

The two local organizations are but two of the groups throughout the local district which will be eligible for the funds. Other groups are (cities): Bastrop, Ferriday, Jena, Natchitoches, North Holce, Oak Grove and West Monroe; and (parishes): Caldwell, Catahoula, Concordia, East Carroll, Grant, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Richland, Tensas, Union and Winn.

Categories for which funds are available, said Woolley, are warning device systems, communications, health and special weapons, education, rescue, emergency welfare and engineering.

Funds will be allocated on a "first come, first served" basis to cities and parishes which have official Civil Defense organizations, said the state director. He pointed out that FCDA regulations require that political subdivisions with a population of 50,000 or more must bring their warning device systems "to a satisfactory degree of completion" to qualify to receive federal contributions for the other programs.

During the past fiscal year some 47 cities and parishes received the bulk of the $189,000 allocated to Louisiana for the matching funds purchase of Civil Defense equipment and materials, said the state director. Woolley reminded that matching funds applications are sent to the state Civil Defense headquarters in Baton Rouge for processing and subsequently are referred for consideration to the FCDA regional office in Denton, Tex.

Also pointed out in the report, the drainage district, on Dec. 31 of last year was a balance of $20,421.91. In the sinking fund a balance of $21,831.92 was reported.

East Carroll School Board Files Suit

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 23 (Special)—The East Carroll Parish School Board, through its president, E. V. Parker and Thompson L. Clarke, district attorney, entered suit against Mrs. Myrtis Woodward Wyly and her son and daughter, Andrew Jackson Wyly, Jr., and Annie Rose Wyly Gifford.

The suit was filed in the East Carroll parish clerk of court office on Oct. 18.

The school board has found that safety requires additional school ground facilities for the Lake Providence High School, and it is necessary by expropriation proceedings to acquire a piece of land, owned by the Wylys and lying adjacent to the school grounds and used by them, at annual rental for the past several years as an elementary department play ground.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Your health suffers from constant pressure and long hours of working.

Working Under Pressure May Affect Your Health

For the past week I have been to the women who read it and are interested in their men's health.

Most men work under pressure, whether they are in the executive class or not. At times it is necessary to work under pressure but this can become a habit. Men who feel that they must take their work home every night and must work most of every week end, might be a much more work, and work of a higher grade, if they took time out for rest and relaxation.

the medical directors of our large corporations. Some of them go so far as to say that they have observed the bad effects of constant overtime on an entire department, not only on health but on the grade of work.

Most of the time the "constant pressure" life is a habit, not an essential. The man who has gotten into this rut should realize that his health will not stand it permanently, that he is missing a great deal of happiness, and that he will be a miserable soul when he retires.

The way to break this habit is deliberately to see to it that he saves some time during each 24 hours, not only for adequate sleep but for rest and relaxation. Medical directors do not mean to indicate that the man should indulge in a mad social whirl but rather that he should have time for hobbies and the outdoors and exercise and pleasant restful companionship. Much social life is hard on health, although it may be restful psychologically simply because it provides a change of pace.

Need Exercise

When men take up exercise they are apt to do it too strenuously. They should have a physical checkup and indulge only in the exercise which is suited to their individual physical makeup. However, most men get too little physical exercise in their work and do need some mild ones to take regularly.

Overweight is one of today's great health hazards. If you are a Tubby Hubby, or just an overweight man, and have missed the menus I have been printing for the past few days you may want the complete Tubby Hubby Reducing Diet which gives you a loss of from seven to 12 pounds in 12 days' time. If so, send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for that booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Officers Elected By Millsaps 4-H

The election of officers for the current year was the main business transacted by the Millsaps School 4-H Club when the first meeting of the year was held at the school this week.

Dwain Johnston was chosen president and other officers to serve with him were elected as follows: secretary, Martha Norris; Council member, Jeannette Bagwell; program chairman, Billy Weber. A vice-president will be chosen at a later date.

In attendance at the meeting were Mrs. Audrey Dawson and W. B. Aycock, Jr., local agricultural agents, and local leaders, Mrs. Jake Humphries, Mrs. Laddie Poindexter, Mrs. R. C. Pittard, and the principal, Clifford Roberts.

Meetings of the club will be held on the third Monday of each month at 2 p.m. in the school lunchroom.

Voting Instruction School Imperative

R. Dean Farr, Ouachita parish clerk of court, again reminded prospective voters in the Nov. 2 election, that the school of instructions slated for Monday must be attended in order for the workers to be eligible. The school will be held at 2 and 7 p.m. at the Neville High school auditorium.

In reminding the workers, Farr pointed out that many of the items which are important in a general election, such as the Nov. 2 is to be, are not used in primary elections. In addition to these, there will be many constitutional amendments which must be voted upon.

For these basic reasons it is important that all persons who will work the polls attend one of the two meetings. Should a person not attend one of the meetings, and therefore not receive a certificate of completion, he will not be eligible to work on the polls.

Detention Home Survey Results To Be Revealed

Results of a survey of the need for a juvenile detention home here—a study made by officials of the National Probation and Parole association—will be made public Monday night at a meeting to be held at the Frances Hotel at 7:30 p.m.

The study was made under the direction of Frederick Ward, Jr., director of the southern office of the NPPA. Public officials and interested citizens are expected to attend the meeting.

The movement to get a detention home for Ouachita parish was initiated in November, 1952, because of an event that occurred at that time. Two juvenile girls were detained in the Ouachita parish jail over the Thanksgiving holidays while they awaited their court hearings. Because there is no detention facility for delinquent juveniles, children who cannot be returned to their homes must be kept in the jails pending their hearings.

A mass meeting to discuss the matter was held in December of that year, to discuss what the public could do to assist the juvenile courts. A committee of six was appointed to act as an investigative group, composed of Mrs. George Forman, Miss Nona Martin, Mrs. Elmer Slagle, Sidney Jackson, Lawrence Pettit, and Irving Zeidman, who served as chairman.

Although the group began as a citizens' committee, it was soon recognized by local governing bodies, it became officially titled, "The Detention Home Citizens' Committee for Ouachita Parish."

The committee compiled reports from police records which indicated that during the year 1952, 355 jail-days were spent by juveniles in the parish prison. The committee sought other improvements in the juvenile court system, and approached local governing bodies for assistance in having a survey made by competent authorities. Funds were then approved for the survey by the NPPA, which is now completed.

Findings of the report, and of the committee, will be presented at the meeting tonight, with Lawrence Pettit presiding.

Patrons Of School Get 400 Signatures

Petitions asking for the ouster of Mrs. Tina Clark as principal of Ransom School in West Monroe and of M. C. Griggs from the parish school system were still being circulated Saturday.

More than 400 persons were reported to have signed the petition asking that Mrs. Clark be removed from Ransom School and re-assigned to another school, while no estimate was given on the parish-wide petition being circulated for Griggs' ouster. Griggs is parish juvenile officer and transportation superintendent.

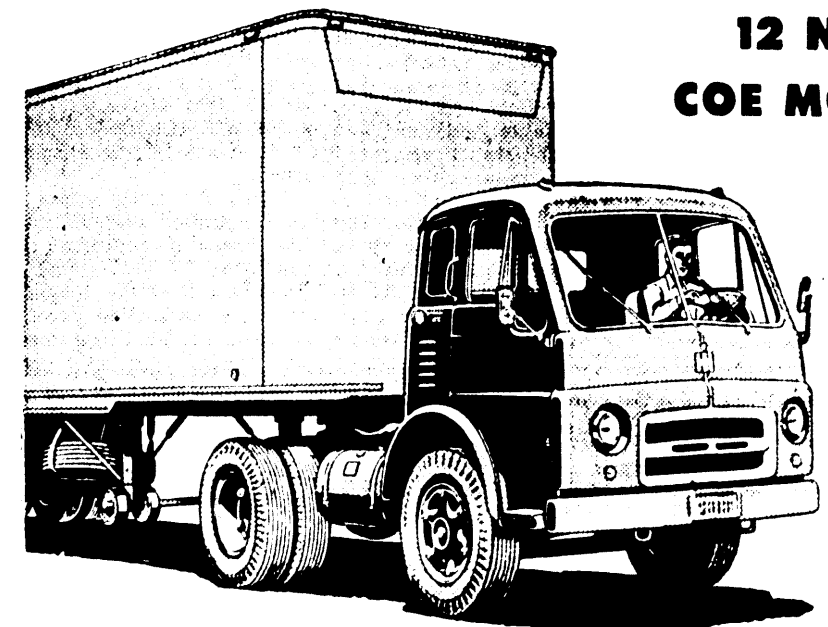

The petitions are being circulated by a citizens' committee in West Monroe which met after the case of Joe Cooper, who pointed a shotgun at the school officials in an effort to have his dog released from a cloakroom at the school, became public.

The 11-year-old boy was sent to Louisiana Training Institute on the afternoon of the same day, but a re-hearing of the case has been held and Judge Howell Heard is expected to render a decision in the near future.

Oilmen Gird For Battle To Exempt Gas Producers From Regulation By ICC

HOUSTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—The 84th Congress, whether Republican or Democratic, can expect to give considerable attention to oil industry problems.

The Supreme Court has cleared the way for another fight over natural gas. The court has refused to reconsider its June 7 decision that the Federal Power Commission should regulate prices of gas sold to interstate pipeline companies.

Oilmen now are preparing to re-submit to Congress proposed legislation that would clearly exempt the producer and gatherer from FPC control provisions of the 1938 Natural Gas Act.

Similar legislation submitted in 1951 by Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) set off possibly the bitterest of postwar struggles over a congressional proposal affecting the oil industry. The bill was approved in the House and Senate but was vetoed by President Truman.

Neither the Supreme Court decision nor FPC's July 16 order freezing the field price of natural gas took the industry by surprise.

An industry-wide "General Gas Committee" to fight such actions began taking shape at the American Petroleum Institute's annual membership meeting last November.

"We wanted to be ready when and if this thing happened," Chairman Maston Nixon, Corpus Christi, Tex., independent operator, explained two weeks ago.

Nixon's committee has indicated it will have no proposal for legislation ready to submit to Congress as soon as it meets in January.

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., which includes practically all the state's operators, major and independent, also approved a San Antonio resolution asking Congress to amend the act.

The Independent Petroleum Assn. opens its membership meeting tomorrow in Tulsa and is expected to approve a similar request.

The court opinions and the FPC July 16 order make frequent reference to the "independent producer," a term normally applied only to the small or individual operator.

Actually, the decisions affect all producers who sell wholesale gas to interstate pipelines for resale in other areas. The term "independent" in this case refers to the approximately 4,100 producers who sell to the interstate lines but who otherwise confine their operations to intrastate activities.

Unlike the dispute over foreign crude oil imports, the natural gas fight now taking shape finds the major operator and the independent standing side by side.

The imports dispute probably will reach the new Congress also. Until the natural gas fight developed, many independent operators were urging immediate congressional action to curb foreign oil imports.

There is indication now this matter will not be pressed at least until after the special Cabinet committee on energy supplies and resources policy makes its report.

Wilson Getting Plenty Of 'Kennel, Bird Dog' Mail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson is still answering letters from people who agree or disagree with his recent controversy-stirring comment on unemployment, bird dogs and kennel dogs. He has received more than 2,100 letters and telegrams since Oct. 11, when in a Detroit news conference he touched off an uproar which brought demands from politicians for his resignation and, a few days later, an apology from Wilson for "inept" remarks.

His friends say that of the approximately 2,100 letters and telegrams received so far, over 1,750 have been favorable, slightly over 350 unfavorable.

Wilson is replying, with somewhat different forms, but with a transcript of the pertinent part of his news conference sent to all. The transcript is a reproduction of one published by newspapers.

In the Detroit news conference, held while Wilson was on a speech-making visit to two Midwest Republican rallies, the defense secretary said:

"Defense work 'is too serious a business to look at it as though it was made work and something to dish out to keep somebody busy.' He recalled that about a year ago a group came into his office and said a reduction in draft calls would add to their unemployment. He said he didn't subscribe to the idea that a 19-year-old boy could be drafted and sent to Korea to be shot at, and he didn't have enough gumption to go 100 miles and get himself a job."

Then he swung into the statement upon which much of the subsequent controversy centered: "I've got a lot of sympathy for people where a sudden change catches them—but I have always liked bird dogs better than kennel dogs myself—you know, one that will get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell."

By the following day, telegrams and letters were beginning to arrive at Wilson's office, before the secretary had arrived back in Chicago. He apologized in the course of it, but said too his remarks had been distorted by "left-wing" opponents.

When the defense chief met reporters at Washington Oct. 14 he said he hoped he was through campaigning. But he looked over his mail, apparently talked with friends and decided recently to make another sortie into politics, with a speech Oct. 29 at Dayton, Ohio. By the time he had come back to Washington, his associates say, there were at least three new invitations to make political talks. Wilson currently is making an inspection tour on the West Coast.

In replying to letter writers who express disapproval of his Detroit remarks, Wilson says:

"Certainly it is a sound religious and social objective to protect men and women to the greatest degree possible against the hazards of life, but this cannot be done by destroying individual responsibility or depriving millions of their freedom."

"The driving force in our free society is that industry and thrift have their reward and laziness and dissipation their penalty. At the same time we have developed a social consciousness for the unfortunate. Thus, the American people have worked out a better solution for their economic and social problems than have the people of any other nation anywhere else in the world."

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

This afternoon at 3 p.m. the doors of the Selman Field playhouse will open for the second reading and try-outs for Little Theatre's second production of the season, the murder mystery "Gentle Does It."

"Gentle Does It" is a brand new play and, although it was only first copyrighted in 1953, it has been done professionally on both New York and London stages. The play in two acts, with six scenes, requires a cast of six, including four women and two men. It offers great opportunity for mature actors who would like to try their talents behind the footlights. We can't tell you too much about "Gentle Does It" without revealing the plot but one catch phrase describes it beautifully: "... murder is his business and generally speaking Edward Bare is a successful business man."

The public is invited to attend the opening readings of "Gentle Does It" this afternoon at the playhouse.

CHATTERBOX . . . Congratulations to the R. C. Canados, who are anticipating a new member in their household. Director Thom Feuerstein and ex-president of Little Theatre Ted Landry, returned the Shreveport Theatre people's visit. They motored to Shreveport last Thursday evening to catch John Wray Young's Little Theatre production of "Bernadine."

The cast and crew of last week's successful, "My Three Angels," were complimented with a party Saturday night in the theatre apartment of director Thom Feuerstein. Theatre parties are always lots of fun to folks who have spent five to six weeks together putting a show on the boards.

Director Thom Feuerstein leaves this week end to attend the Southwest Theatre conference in New Orleans, October 28, 29 and 30. The convention headquarters at the St. Charles Hotel and will feature a special panel headed by John Wray Young of Shreveport "Layman in the Theatre." This panel of special interest to all members of the theatre will be held Saturday morning, 9 until 12, so if any theatre members happen to be in New Orleans or can arrange to be there, they are urged to attend this session of the Theatre conference. The conference delegates will also see "The Lady's Not For Burning" at the Le Petit Theatre and Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" at Tulane.

RUSTON, Oct. 23 (Special)—Louisiana Tech freshmen have completed their slate of officers for 1954-55 with the election of a president, vice-president, treasurer and Student Senate representative in a run-off election.

Named president of the class was Kenneth Caldwell of Shreveport. He defeated Mike Cane of Monroe 260-148.

By a vote of 202 to 201, Annette Mims of Shreveport defeated Barbara Emmons of Ruston for the vice-presidency.

In the race for treasurer, Betty Kelly of El Dorado, Ark., won over Hubert Evans of Creston, 238-170. A 208-198 count gave the office of Student Senate representative to Anne Lafitte of Mansfield. Her opponent was Nancy Lee of New Orleans.

Serving with these officers will be class secretary Toni Burton of Shreveport, who had no opposition.

Negro Held For Theft, Burglary

An 18-year-old Monroe Negro, Leroy Myles of 1012 Powell avenue, has been booked at the city police station on charges of burglary and theft. Chief of Detectives Hugh Tolbert said.

Myles was arrested by Officers Andrew Bond and Roosevelt Hatten at Carroll High School auditorium late Friday night, after he allegedly entered a bus and took various items of clothing.

Booked at the police station then on a burglary, Myles allegedly admitted to detectives Saturday the burglary of Liberty Cane here on Oct. 12, where $4 in cash was taken, and theft of a shotgun from Sears-Roebuck store.

The Negro also admitted taking $4.00 in change from a suit drink machine outside the parish, Tolbert said.

Myles was transferred to the parish jail, where charges are expected to be filed by the district attorney's office.

First Family Reunion In 29 Years Will Be Staged

By E. S. NEWMAN
Jena Correspondent

JENA, Oct. 23 (Special)—In the near future, Mrs. Ruby Wishum of Jena hopes there will be a reunion of her brothers and sisters, some of whom have not seen each other since their mother died on April 25, 1925.

This possibility developed this week when Mrs. Wishum received a letter from one of her sisters, now Mrs. A. W. Newsome of Columbia, Miss., who, with her twin sister and another sister were separated from the five other children of the family when their mother died. Until receiving the letter this week, none of the five had any knowledge of the whereabouts of the younger three.

When Mrs. Susie Jagers Williamson passed away on April 25, 1925, there were eight children, ranging from the ages of 10 months to 15 years, left with their stepfather, John Williamson.

The oldest five—Eugene, Ruby, Jewel, Audrey and Steve Wilson Jagers, went to make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perry of Crystal Springs, Miss. The three youngest children, Lola Mae and Ola Mae, twins, and Effie, remained in the care of their stepfather.

Later, it has been learned, Williamson found himself unable to keep the three little girls and placed them in the Baptist Children's home in Jackson, Miss.

There the ties between the families were broken—until Mrs. Wishum received the letter from one of the twins, Lola Mae, who now is Mrs. Newsome.

Mrs. Newsome wrote that she and her twin, Ola, were adopted into the family of a Columbia, Miss., couple and the other sister, Effie, was adopted into the family of a Mr. and Mrs. Moody of Parton, Miss.

In checking back and trying to trace her family, Lola (Mrs. Newsome) somehow obtained Mrs. Wishum's name and address here in Jena and the ensuing correspondence resulted.

Recounting some of the experiences of the five children who remained together, Mrs. Wishum said that Eugene now is married and lives in Ardmore, Okla.; Mrs. Wishum is the wife of Mr. J. L. Wishum of Jena and is the secretary-treasurer of the First Baptist Church of Jena; Jewel is now Mrs. Clark McNair of Clinton, Miss.; Audrey is married to Mr. Kermit Howell of Vicksburg, Miss., and S. W. (Steve Wilson) Jagers was killed in service in Germany in World War II during the Battle of the Bulge.

Mrs. Newsome wrote that her twin, Ola Mae, now is Mrs. Robert Stuckey who also lives in Columbia, Miss., and Effie now is Mrs. Harold Frederick of Tishomingo, Miss.

There are numerous children—and some grandchildren—of the brothers and sisters and Mrs. Wishum is hopeful that "if nothing happens to prevent it, we hope to have a big family reunion around the end of the year and really get acquainted with those of our family we have not seen in almost 30 years."

Ruston Bans 'Comic' Books

RUSTON, Oct. 23 (Special)—For some time aroused citizens of Ruston have been protesting the sale of crime, horror and sex "comic" books in the city.

As a result of these protests which were spearheaded by a local radio station, which for several months conducted an intensive campaign against the publications, the Ruston City Council in its regular October meeting voted to outlaw the sale of these "books."

The body voted into law an ordinance modeled on that of Houston, Tex., which defines the kind of magazine which is banned.

According to arresting officers, McCormick ran his automobile into a ditch at Sterling road and Concordia, near state police headquarters, about 10:30 p.m. Friday.

The officers said he was given an alcometer test at state police headquarters, then booked at the city police station.

Three Dead, One Hurt In Auto Crash Near Bastrop

BASTROP, Oct. 23 (Special)—Three persons were killed and one slightly injured in a two-car collision four miles north of Bastrop on the Crossett road about mid-morning Saturday.

The dead: Grady Moore, 58, operator of a Crossett, Ark., cafeteria, of a fractured skull and concussion. His wife, Mrs. Annie Moore, about 50, of a broken neck and fractured skull.

Odessa Wilson, 24, Negro, Mer Rouge road, Bastrop, of a broken neck.

The Wilson woman was a passenger in an automobile being driven by Willie Taylor, Negro, 20, route one, Bastrop, who was thrown from the automobile when the crash occurred. He suffered bruises and lacerations, but was released from the Garner Clinic in Bastrop after treatment.

According to the sheriff's department, the accident occurred shortly after 9 a.m. Saturday when the two cars crashed on the Cypress creek bridge about four miles north of town.

Donald White, 26, an eyewitness to the accident, who was driving a pickup truck in front of the Moore car, said Moore attempted to pass him on the bridge and met the car driven by Taylor, the deputies said.

Dr. J. N. Jones, Morehouse parish coroner, said the Wilson woman was killed instantly. Mrs. Moore died in the Bastrop hospital at 10:05 a.m., and Moore died 10:20.

The cars were practically demolished. No charges were filed immediately.

Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Moore were taken to the Jones Funeral Home at Crossett, but funeral arrangements had not been made Saturday.

The Moores were reported to have three grown children.

The United States and Canada, although not members of the Brussels group, are co-sponsors of this treaty.

These pacts were signed in the French Foreign Ministry's gold and white state dining room under glaring floodlights. Then the whole group—except the German delegation—moved over to the NATO building on a hill near the Eiffel Tower and signed protocols to admit West Germany to NATO membership.

The protocols also provide for placing 12 rearmament West German divisions and a small air force and navy under command of the NATO commander in Europe, who presently is American Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.

By agreeing to rearm Germany, "France will find herself face to face with her eternal enemy—German militarism—and is aligning herself against the Soviet Union," the note said.

The Soviet note called for a meeting of Molotov, U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Premier-Foreign Minister Pierre Mendes-France in November to consider the Soviet proposals.

Ouachita 4-H'er Shows Top Yellow Hybrid Corn

SHREVEPORT, October 23 (Special)—A 15-year-old Ouachita parish high school 4-H Club member, Benny Berry of Logtown Community, Saturday walked away with championship honors in the yellow hybrid corn competition of the junior show at the State Fair in Shreveport.

This is the first time in several years that a Ouachita junior grower has been able to edge out exhibitors from Rapides parish in the highly competitive show, according to Ouachita parish associate county agent, W. B. Aycock, Jr. Judging in this division was completed Saturday.

Results of entries of other Ouachita parish 4-H Club members in fair competition: Food preservation—Linda Tolbird, beets, 2nd place; Joyce Malone, catsup, third; Beth Sanford, peas, first; Karen Strozler, snap beans, second; Lila Fite, jelly, second; Gaye Beard, jelly, second.

Clothing—Lucille Browder, school costumes, first, show bag, first place; Jo Taylor, pajamas, third; Georgia Ruth Owens, show bag, third.

Cotton—Benny Berry, seventh; Tommy Jones, sixth.

Corn—Richard Coker, yellow hybrid, sixth; Gerald Coker, yellow hybrid, fourth; Irving Sills, yellow hybrid, second; Wayne Shipp, yellow hybrid, first; Benny Owens, white prolific, first; Ronnie Griggs, white hybrid, first.

Sweet potatoes—Clara Sills, fourth.

According to Aycock, eleven 4-H Club members from the parish will exhibit poultry at the state fair in the junior show starting Wednesday, immediately following the adult poultry show which is now in progress.

Aycock, and Mrs. Audrey Dawson, associate Ouachita Parish home demonstration agent, expressed hope that their 4-H'ers would repeat the success in poultry competition which they have had in previous years, when they earned high honors.

They are under her careful supervision.

Miss Sharp is one of the most unselfish of young women. She has no thought of herself as long as she can aid any good cause. She spends hours and hours in errands of kindness with no thought of sparing herself.

But her work is not exclusively for the "Y", although that comes first. She is active in church work and in club lines, where her influence is felt.

She knows intimately unnumbered persons in public and private life. We can just mention one of her hobbies that is deeply appreciated in some manner known only to herself. She knows a myriad of birthdays of men and women here and never overlooks to send cards of greeting. The same is true of holidays and other seasons of the year. It is hard to estimate the number she sends out but we would not be surprised if she sends out as many as an even hundred each month. All this is done with utmost modesty but it forms the basis of an unusual friendship and fits her even better for success in her important work.

your dog with your little fists." A woman in Marrero, La., enclosed "one dollar to buy little Joe Cooper some ammunition for his gun."

Grammar school children in Buffalo, N. Y., formed a "Joe Cooper Fan Club" and got up a petition to protect their own dogs. From London, Eng., came a news clipping about a judge who decreed that "Heaven wouldn't be heaven without dogs."

Out in Phoenix, Ariz., cowboy artist and writer John Lindsey Higgins recalled his own lost youth. "When I was a boy in Lee County, Iowa," he wrote, "I had a dog that the combined forces of the U. S. Army and Navy could not have taken from me. I was then and am today a dead shot. At the age of 70, I can shoot the eye out of a coyote at 100 yards."

Higham didn't volunteer his services as a marksman, but instead mailed a copy of his latest book, "The Lost Dutchman Gold Mine." Others sent dog food, clothing, offers of adoption and promises of a college education.

Reporters hurried out to Joe's house one night when his aging mother, who needs a magnifying glass to read by the smoky kerosene lamp, reported receipt of a letter from a famous former president now living in Missouri. The envelope, scrawled in pencil, read: "Ex-President H. S. Truman."

It contained some give 'em hell sentiments and a profusion of clippings on Secretary of Defense Wilson's bird dog troubles. In Kansas City, Mo., H. S. Truman without the E denied authorship.

An Oakland, Calif., widow, who skimped and slaved to raise six children in the depression years, advised Joe's mother not to part with him. "Others would give him a college education, but could not give him a mother's love."

Mrs. Cooper, a wan, weary mother of nine children who takes in wash and raises a few chickens and pigs to make ends meet on a $15 a month welfare check, is determined to retain custody—"He's my baby and he needs me."

But she is grateful for all that the letter writers of the world have done. "I know everything will be all right. People everywhere have been so nice. They say they'll send Joe to college. . . I know they will."

Joe is certain too. He wants to be a minister. . . "Or maybe a cop. The policemen treated me nice. They fed my dog."

Pfc. Ronnie Menees, 1432129 and Pfc. James Stogardell, 1417159. The letter was written by Pfc. Michael C. Priddy, 42 Motor Co. 5th Marines, 1st Marine Division FMF, care of P. O. San Francisco, Calif.

"Dear Jes' Ramblin': 'Ruminating over 'Backward turn backward oh time in your flight and make me a child again just for tonight,' for some glorious hours I was in fancy a child again for the time being. Again I knew the job of looking at the world through childish eyes which see only the lovely, the good, the kind and the true."

"For twelve glorious hours once again I felt myself a member of a large family—sorrowing when any of the family felt sadness, laughing when the family laughed. Again I felt a mother's wonderful sacrificial love, that love so abiding that even death cannot dim or sever it."

"Yes, Jes' Ramblin', this amazing thing was done when I spent 12 hours reading Monroe's very own writer, Jean Littleton Gentry's grand book, 'Mama and the Outlaw.' My only regret is that I had not read this book years ago before the cold silence of eternity claimed my own precious mother. I would have shown her more love, more appreciation. Sincerely,

"A Jes' Ramblin' and Jean Gentry fan."

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

With all the fire and energy that marked their fight this time a year ago to keep organized baseball here, the Twin Cities Baseball Corporation, better fortified now as the result of their sometimes disheartening trials of the past campaign, have launched their drive to assure the success of the Twin Cities Sports in another year of Cotton States League ball.

Success of their unique advanced ticket sale will guarantee no financial woes. At the same time, the fans get the benefit of greatly reduced ticket prices. Grandstand patrons can see every home game of the season, except "Legion Night," for $20, and bleacher customers can see 'em all for $15. On the basis of a 60-game schedule as last year, that's 33.3 cents a game for grandstand and two bits for bleachers. Game prices for the same seats last year were 75 and 50 cents.

Offered in the advanced sale are 1,200 grandstand season books, and 500 bleacher books. The goal is complete sale of all these books before the '55 season opener, and the Sports will be guaranteed a financially sound season. The tickets will be transferable—anybody can use them.

While the club hasn't said anything about it, we believe that it might be prevailed upon to work out some installment plan provided the purchasers make their arrangements now. Say, you start paying a buck a week now, and, before the season opens, you've got your tickets paid for without missing the money. Of course there are a lot of fans who can make the straight cash purchase easily enough, but just the same there are a lot more fans who might be pinched for $20 at a lick. Suggest you talk it over with Manager Ed Head, also general manager.

Just take care of your ticket needs now. Get in touch with Head, R. D. Farr Insurance, or Adler's Tire Company where the tickets are currently on sale.

Meanwhile, the league is working on a plan to insure that any club starting the season will be able to finish. Then, too, there's the stronger possibility that the major leagues will furnish more assistance to the minors, particularly with money. Pine Bluff, one of the clubs that almost folded last year, is back stronger with a new front office and a promise of financial help from the Baltimore Orioles. Pine Bluff, previously with help from the Orioles and the old St. Louis Browns, got players from the higher ups but no cash help out in the money woes.

New clubs appear almost sure to come in, particularly Vicksburg and Texarkana. Other clubs are also making big plans for advanced ticket sales. The Sports are offering one of the best. Just make your orders now.

Claiming attention with their touchdown exploits on the high school grids of this area this season are Ronald Manchester, Jena; J. W. "Red" Brodnax, Bastrop; Hugh Emfinger, Newellton; B. K. Miller, Sicily Island; and Guy Hill, Ferriday—all certain to win strong consideration when all-state teams are being selected.

Manchester, with 102 points, leads the double-A scorers; Brodnax is tops in triple-A with 91; Hill heads the Ferriday Class A powerhouse as the district's top scorer with 75 points; and Miller and Emfinger have been conducting a neck-and-neck race in Class B district three with Miller currently leading, 84 to 74.

Louisiana Training Institute, winner of seven and loser of two, is out of title contention, but the little Pels have the leading scorers in Class B district two, Vernon "Plowboy" Jones, with 66, and Calvin King, with 50. Never before has L. T. I. shown such scoring punch as this year. However, George "Sonny" Sumlin, Delhi, is threatening to catch King, bringing his total to 49 points with two touchdowns in the defeat of Rayville Friday night.

Rose Bowl-Bound USC Tops California, 29-27

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23 (AP)—Quarterback Paul Larson and the California Bears built a roaring fire under Rose Bowl-bound Southern California, but it wasn't hot enough and the Trojans came out on top today in a bitterly waged contest, 29-27.

Remained unbeaten in Pacific Coast Conference play, and dealing the Bears a near-fatal blow to their bowl aspirations, the Trojans marched to victory by the margin of safety scored in the third quarter.

Southern California all but eliminated the Bears with a sudden scoring surge late in the final period to 20 ahead, 29-21. But with the clock running out and 66:34 fans hanging on the finish, iron man Larson except the Bears 54 yards and completed a scoring strike to end Jim Carmichael's leading the final score to 29 to 27.

This was California's finest game despite its fourth defeat, and it required an even greater game by the favored Trojans to win.

U. S. C. forced the Bears into errors—two fumbles—and turned the first into a fast touchdown in the first four minutes of the opening period. The second Cal fumble cost the Bears a touchdown—a ball dropped in the Trojans' end zone by halfback John Wilson.

Bolstered by this break the Trojans traveled 48 yards and made it 14-0. The payoff pass was a 33-yard pass from quarterback Jim Conratto to left end Chuck Leimbach.

Score by quarters:
California 0 7 7 13-27
U. S. C. 7 7 8 7-29
California scoring: touchdowns, Hanftin, Larson, Norris, Carmichael. Conversions, Larson 3.
U. S. C. scoring: Touchdowns, Crow 3. Leimbach. Conversions, Tsagarakis 3. Safety, Larson (kick-lead end zone by McFarland).

Mustangs Easily Defeat Kansas In One-Sided Tussle

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 24 (AP)—Southern Methodist University stabilized its stars early but before they had worn Kansas to a frazzle and set up an easy 36-18 victory in the quagmire that was the Cotton Bowl today.

The smallest crowd ever to watch S. M. U. in the big football stadium its former All-America Doak Walker is jokingly credited with building—20,037—sat in a steady rain to see the one-sided intersectional football game that really wasn't even a contest.

Kansas scored one touchdown against S. M. U.'s first team in the opening minutes, two more against its second and third stringers in the third and final periods.

The Mustangs racked up two touchdowns in the first quarter, two more and a safety in the second, and one more at the end. Four extra points by Ed Bernet was just that much gravy.

The statistics tell the story better than the final score: 432 yards rolled up by S. M. U., 185 for Kansas. Out of this total, 315 yards were chewed up by the Mustangs' stable of fleet backs: Don McIlhenny, Frank Eldom, Hal O'Brien, John Marshall, Blake Tucker.

Score by quarters:
Kansas 6 0 6 6-18
S. M. U. 14 16 0 6-36

Kansas scoring: Touchdowns, Laughlin, McIntosh, Held.

Duke Fights From Behind To Thump N. C. State, 21 To 7

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 23 (AP)—Halfback Bob Pascal scored two touchdowns, one on a 52-yard dash off tackle, as Duke came from behind to defeat a stubborn North Carolina State 21-7 in the Blue Devils' first Atlantic Coast Conference game of the season.

A crowd of 10,200 saw the surprising State team take the opening kickoff and roll 58 yards for a touchdown with halfback John Zubaty crashing over from the three on a reverse. Guard Al D'Angelo converted.

Heavily favored Duke tied the score early in the second period by driving 65 yards with Pascal going over from the 2. Guard Jim Nelson converted the first of three points.

On the fourth play in the third period the speedy Pascal, a junior from Bloomfield, N. J., shot over right tackle and outdistanced two State defenders to score on a 52-yard run.

Duke scored its final touchdown late in the third period on a 62-yard pass play from quarterback Jerry Barger to halfback Ed Post. Duke scored its first point.

Duke scoring: Touchdowns, Pascal 2, Post. Conversions, Nelson 3.
N. C. State scoring: Touchdown, Zubaty. Conversion, D'Angelo.

Strong Defense In Cincinnati Victory

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23 (AP)—The University of Cincinnati today humiliated Xavier University in an intercollegiate football tussle not so much by the 33-0 score, but by keeping the Musketeers from making a first down.

The Cincinnati Bearcats, stretching their victory streak to 14 games, rolled up 484 yards on the ground and in the air for 25 first downs. Winless Xavier could total only 32 yards on offense and never put 10 yards together.

McGuire To Host 'Dog Fight' Golf

McGuire Park Golf Club of West Monroe will host the weekly "dog fight" golf tournament for this area tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock.

Pro Leonard Warren, with his course in the finest shape of the year, says McGuire "will be a challenge to any foursomes participating."

"Dog fight" events are growing in popularity, particularly with more of the high handicap golfers participating along with the better local area talent. A pro is paired with three amateurs in team play.

Warren advises golfers to bring their own caddies if available to forestall a possible shortage of caddies with school going on.

Arkansas Halts Ole Miss; Ohio State Bags Wisconsin

4th Quarter Pass Fashions 6 To 0 Win For Porkers

By RAY STEPHENS
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 23 (AP)—A 66-yard pass play from substitute tailback Buddy Benson to Preston Carpenter late in the fourth quarter gave Arkansas' Razorbacks a 6-0 victory over the University of Mississippi today, ending Ole Miss' winning streak at five straight.

The result gave undefeated Arkansas, leader of the Southwest Conference, its fifth straight victory.

The intersectional game was extra costly to Ole Miss because it counted as a Southeast Conference tilt and knocked the Rebels from the loop lead. Mississippi had not been able to schedule the required six games to be eligible for the Southeast title so the game here was designated as a conference game.

For three quarters the teams battled between the 20s in a test of offensive strength.

Then with only 3 minutes and 45 seconds remaining, Benson threw 31 yards to blocking back Carpenter. Carpenter had slipped behind Ole Miss' defense. He outran halfbacks Billy Kinard and Earl Blair to score untouched.

Mississippi twice made determined drives but was stopped short by an Arkansas defense that has been magnificent in the clutch all year. One Rebel drive was stopped on the 4; the other ended on the 17.

Mississippi tried to get back in the game, only to lose the ball on fumbles twice in the Razorbacks as time ran out.

Kentucky Scores Upset Over Georgia Tech, 13-6

By MERCER BAILEY
ATLANTA, Oct. 23 (AP)—Bradley Mills, an unusual junior end, sparked a first-up crew of Kentucky Wildcats to a 13-6 victory over highly-favored Georgia Tech today in a Southeastern Conference football headliner.

Kentucky came to Atlanta as a two-touchdown underdog but Mills' outstanding performance gave the Wildcats the spark they needed to defeat a flat Georgia Tech team, rated No. 15 nationally.

Mills scored one of the Wildcats' touchdowns in the first quarter on a 26-yard pass from Bob Hardy. In the third quarter, after Tech had scored on a 14-yard pass from Bill Brigrum to Henry Hair, Mills blocked Wade Mitchell's attempted conversion.

That one-point margin seemed all-important until only one minute 24 seconds were left. The Wildcats then marched 51 yards in nine plays for another score, Hardy going over from the three. A 15-yard pass from Hardy to Mills and a 16-yard spring by Dick Moloney set up the touchdown.

The defeat was Tech's second and killed the Yellow Jackets' hopes for a share of the SEC championship. The victory by the injury-riddled Wildcats also spoiled Tech's homecoming celebration for most of the unbelieving 34,000 fans.

Tech made only two serious threats in addition to its scoring drive. The Jackets drove to Kentucky's 27 in the second quarter where Kentucky's Steve Kiefer intercepted a Wade Mitchell pass. In the third period, Tech fullback George Humphreys hauled in a Hardy pass on Kentucky's 28 and returned it to the 20. After Tech got a first down at the 9 the Wildcats' defenses stiffened and on fourth down from the 2 Humphreys was unable to get across.

Kentucky, which now has a 3-3 record, marched the opening kickoff 68 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown and Hardy added the extra point—which for a long time seemed to make the difference.

Larry Morris, Tech's All-American center, re-injured an ankle on the second play of the game and played only spasmodically thereafter.

Undefeated Bucks Hand Badgers 1st Trouncing, 31-14

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 23 (AP)—Ohio State's brilliant Buckeyes took a giant stride toward the Rose Bowl today, scoring four touchdowns on seven plays in the late going to practically wreck previously unbeaten Wisconsin 31-14.

An 88-yard touchdown run on an intercepted pass by State's Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy in the final minute of the third period broke the contest wide open. Cassidy's long run which overcame a 7-3 halftime deficit was the spark which sent the Bucks on to their fifth straight victory, the fourth in Big Ten play.

Until his scintillating dash the Bucks had gained only six yards in two third-period series of downs. Scoring a Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl trip, State went 69 yards in four plays at the start of the fourth period, sending fullback Huff 68 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown. Quarterback Dave Leggett went 27 for a score on the first play after Wisconsin failed to gain on a fourth and 15 play on its own 27.

After the next kickoff fullback Charles Thomas fumbled on his own 10, tackle Don Swartz recovered for Ohio and substitute halfback Jerry Harkader made the 10 yards in a single play.

After little Tad Weed got Ohio State off in front with a 29-yard field goal in the second period, Wisconsin took a 7-3 edge as quarterback Jim Miller hit halfback Pat Levenhagen with a 34-yard scoring pass. The Badgers, behind 31-7, marched 81 yards, mostly through the air, for their final counter with halfback Bob Gillingham going the final yard.

Fumble Hands Georgia Break Needed To Top Tulane

Bulldogs March For Only Score In Third Period

By JAMES SAGGUS
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23 (AP)—Big Jimmy Brown, a sophomore tackle, grabbed up a fumbled ball today that gave Georgia the break it needed to defeat Tulane, 7-0, in a lack-luster contest before 18,000 fans.

Brown picked up the ball on Tulane's 31 after Georgia had spent almost three fruitless periods trying to dent the tough Tulane defense.

The Georgians pounded across for a touchdown in just seven plays. Fullback Bob Clemens went five for the score and Joe Graff added the extra point.

Neither team was able to muster a consistent offense. Georgia's longest drive carried 65 yards after the opening kickoff and was stymied by an offside penalty at the Tulane seven.

Tulane got into scoring position twice but lacked the final punch. The first drive carried 58 yards to the 13 in the second quarter with a pass from Freddie Wilcox to end Harry Duvinneaud accounting for 20 yards. A backfield in motion penalty stopped that one.

Late in the final quarter, Tulane drove 73 yards to the 10. Sub-quarterback Bruce Waters was trapped for an eight yard loss to end that drive.

Michigan Stuns Minnesota With First Loss, 34-0

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 23 (AP)—Michigan's Wolverines, inspired by injured halfback Tony Branoff, upset powerful Minnesota 34-0, today to loom as a sudden and serious contender for the Big Ten title. It was Minnesota's first defeat in five games this season.

Unranked Michigan started 70-303 homecoming fans by winning back the traditional Little Brown Jug from the Gophers, eighth-ranked team in the nation. The Wolverines stalled Minnesota's split T attack allowing only one first down in the first half.

Michigan ground through Minnesota's defense, the second-rated in the Big Ten, for a 70-yard drive in the first period and an 80-yard series in the second, both ending in touchdowns.

The Wolverines smacked through for three more in the second half on drives of 66, 69, and 37 yards. Branoff, who was back in action for the first time since suffering a knee injury in the Army game, figured in four of the touchdowns.

Branoff was sent in the first time with the ball on Minnesota's 13. In two plays he scored. He sparked the second touchdown drive, but stood by while fullback Fred Baer smacked over from the four for another Michigan score in the third period. Halfback Danny Cline ran 22 yards in the third period for the fourth score. Cline passed 19 yards to end Ron Kramer in the end zone for the last score in the fourth period.

Michigan 7 7 13 7-34
Minnesota 0 0 0 0-0
Michigan scoring: Touchdowns, Branoff, Baer 2, Cline, Kramer. Conversion, Kramer 4.

Navy's Big Guns Shatter Winless Quakers, 52 To 6

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23 (AP)—Navy's football forces carried over too much firepower for Penn today and sailed to an easy 52-6 victory over the winless Quakers.

The lopsided triumph cleaned up some old business that had rankled the Navy for a long time. It was the first time since 1945, when a Penn transfer, Skipmy Minis, did the trick, that Navy had been able to win at Franklin Field.

And the big score against this old rival took away some of the sting from Navy's 21-19 loss to Pittsburgh last week.

Although Joe Gattuso, a powerful fullback, accounted for two touchdowns and made a couple of important tackles, it was a team victory with few outstanding individual performances. Navy, in winning, looked as good as or better than any team in the East.

Penn., losing its fifth straight game, came up with the one big individual feat of the game, Stan Chaplin's 79 yard runback of a kickoff for Penn's only score.
Navy 13 7 20 12-52
Penn 6 0 0 0-6
Navy scoring: Touchdowns, Welch, Hepworth, Gattuso 2, Smith, Beagle, Burchett, Gohber. Conversions, Textor 3, Burchett.
Penn scoring: Touchdown, Chaplin.

Louisiana Tech Tags Ist Defeat On Northwestern

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 23 (AP)—Louisiana Tech dropped Northwestern State from the unbeaten ranks today with a 13-6 Gulf States Conference victory.

Tech led all the way, scoring its first touchdown early in the second period on a 21-yard pass from quarterback Pete McCulley to end Charles Anderson. John McMichael converted.

Tech's second touchdown came soon after the start of the second half on a 31-yard run by halfback Russell Rainbolt. The score was set up by an NSC fumble recovered by Tech tackle Buster Lum on his 49.

After driving to the NSC 31, Rainbolt took a handoff and headed for his left end. He fumbled the ball, but picked it up on the bounce and sprinted the rest of the way.

NSC escaped a shutout with a touchdown in the last 50 seconds when quarterback James McNew threw a screen pass to halfback Larry Whit who scored on a 31-yard play.

The game, an annual feature of the opening day of the state fair, saw Tech lead in NSC territory several times, one drive ending on the one-yard marker.

Dartmouth Indians Beat Harvard, 13-7

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 23 (AP)—Bill (Bully) Beagle, a trigger-armed junior quarterback, passed for both Indian touchdowns today as Dartmouth defeated Harvard 13-7 at The Stadium.

Harvard 0 7 0 0-7

Newellion Takes 20 To 7 Decision Over Wisner Foe

NEWELLION, La., Oct. 23 (Special)—The Newellion Bears put on a fine performance for a homecoming crowd last night as they rolled over the Wisner Bulldogs, 20-7. The Bears scored once in each of the first three periods while the Bulldogs got their lone tally in the third quarter.

It was big "Buddy" Emfinger who started things off for the Bears as he galloped 18 yards for the first touchdown, but only after halfback Terry Head had thrown one of his aerial bombs to twin brother right end Jerry Head, good for 27 yards. The attempt for conversion was no good. Then in the early minutes of the second quarter, Terry Head threw his second and last pass of the game to twin brother Jerry for 36 yards and another touchdown. Point after was made by halfback Ronnie Doyle on an end sweep.

Not letting things rest there, Terry Head came back in the third period and ran one across himself from 10 yards out. Point after was booted by halfback Parnell Barfield. Then the Bulldogs got a bit desperate and began throwing.

With fourth down and nine to go what looked like an attempt to pass ended in a fumble as the entire Bear line plowed through and the ball was grabbed by Wisner halfback Will Cole who picked his way some 35 yards to the goal line. Point after was kicked by Roy Shivor.

Just before the end of the first half, right end Jerry Head, one of the greatest ends to wear the maroon and white of Newellion, received a head injury which caused his removal to the hospital for examination. His absence was quite noticeable, especially in the Bear passing attack and offense in general. Jerry plays a great end, throwing the key block on many runs and using his long arms and six-foot body to reach out for passes thrown by twin brother, Terry. However, at last reports he was pronounced out of danger and on his feet.

Tarheels Beat Deacons, 14-7, In Hectic Tilt

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., Oct. 23 (AP)—Sophomore halfback Ed Sutton romped for touchdown runs of 21 and 77 yards to lead North Carolina to a 14-7 victory over Wake Forest today in an Atlantic Coast Conference game which ended in a free for all.

Police had to rush out in the closing seconds to put down a free for all among the players which broke out after the referee ejected Wake Forest halfback Burt Harrison and Tar Heel end Will Frye for engaging in a mixup.

Wake Forest rammed 81 yards in the final period with Nick Maravic going over from the one.
Score by quarters:
Wake Forest 0 0 0 7-0
North Carolina 7 0 7 0-14
Wake Forest scoring: Touchdown, Maravic. Conversion, Topping.
North Carolina scoring: Touchdowns, Sutton 2. Conversions, Keller 2.

Baylor's Aerials Beat Texas A & M By 20-7 Margin

WACO, Oct. 23 (AP)—Billy Hooper's pinpoint passing for three touchdowns kept Baylor's Southwest Conference title hopes alive today as the Bears settled down in the second half to beat Texas A. and M. 20-7.

Hooper completed 11 of 13 passes for 126 yards, playing for 58 minutes of a game that was just anybody's until Hooper started his sensational string of completions.

It was the hard-fighting Aggies' second conference loss and fifth of a so far dismal season. It virtually eliminated them from the conference chase. Baylor has now won one and lost one.

The jittery Bears were outclassed in the first period and A. and M. took the lead on a pass from quarterback Elwood Kettler to B. P. Huddleston after recovering a Baylor fumble on the 29.

Baylor came back to tie it up 7-7 in the second quarter after a 65-yard drive, with Hooper passing to end Charley Smith for the score.

It was Baylor's game all the way in the second half, with Hooper throwing to halfback Weldon Holley for one touchdown and repeating to end Excell Amyett for the Bruin's final score.

Score by quarters:
Texas A. & M. 7 0 0 0-7
Baylor 0 7 13 0-20
Texas A. and M. scoring: Touchdowns, Huddleston. Conversions, Kettler.
Baylor scoring: Touchdowns, C. Smith, Holley, Amyett. Conversions, C. Smith 2.

Oklahoma's Steam Roller Held To 21-0 By K-State

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 23 (AP)—Oklahoma failed to show the spark today that made it the nation's No. 1 football team but the Sooners still were good enough to toy with Kansas State and come up with a 21-0 Big Seven Conference decision.

The victory was Oklahoma's 14th straight and its 42nd consecutive game without a loss in the conference. But the 48,000 fans watching the game were visibly bored by the lack of luster.

The Sooners were rated 40 points or better than the Wildcats after a 65-0 romp over Kansas last week. Coach Bud Wilkinson kept his first two teams in the game most of the way but they were not up to par, fumbling on their first running play of the game.

The Wildcats, with a record of four victories and one defeat going into today's game, fought hard to hold down the Sooner score. But listless Oklahoma was its own worst enemy.

Oklahoma's three touchdowns came in the first half with halfback Buddy Leake scoring twice and converting three times, once following sophomore fullback Jerry Tubbs' plunge for the third tally.

Score by quarters:
Kansas State 0 0 0 0-0
Oklahoma 7 14 0 0-21
Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns, Leake 2, Tubbs. Conversions, Leake 3.
Kansas State scoring: Touchdowns, Leake 2, Tubbs. Conversions, Harris.

Army Steamroller Crushes Columbia By 67 To 12 Count

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—Army's fast developing football machine crushed Columbia today 67-12, the highest score ever made in a series that began in 1899.

Everyone on the Army bench got into the battle and 10 men had a hand in the scoring. Columbia fumbles were responsible for five Army touchdowns. The longest run of the game was made at the start of the second half when Tom Bell dashed 68 yards for a touchdown.

This was the highest score ever run up against a team coached by Lou Little, who this year is celebrating his 25th year as head coach at Columbia.

The previous high mark in scoring against Little, and the highest run up by Army, was made by the Cadets in 1949, 63-6.

Columbia gave the crowd of 30,000 something to cheer about in the closing moments of the first half when the Lions scored two touchdowns in a little more than a minute of play.

Torch Murder Suspect's Missing Car Found; But It Yields No New Clues

FORT WORTH, Oct. 23—UP—Investigators disclosed Saturday that somebody had the automobile in which David Fred Hagler Jr., came back from his last week end thoroughly washed and cleaned last Thursday.

The automobile — A light blue Ford that Hagler had just bought in Itasca, Tex., about 60 miles from Fort Worth, under the name "Dale Waggoner"—turned up Friday in a garage.

Detectives and Oklahoma Crime bureau agents hurried down to go over it but discovered that somebody had telephoned the garage Thursday, given the claim check number and ordered it washed and cleaned.

Hagler, 36, vice president of the U. S. Asphalt Corp. of Fort Worth, left the automobile at a tourist court about half a mile from where a burned body was found in a station wagon near Davis, Okla., on Oct. 10, one police informant said.

He reclaimed the automobile the day the body was found and drove off, the informant, who runs the tourist court, said. It was known that Hagler drove from Waco to Fort Worth on Oct. 13 in the automobile. But it had been missing from then until it turned up in the garage.

Hagler, ordered extradited to Oklahoma for trial on a murder charge, was in jail under $20,000 bond. His attorneys, Byron Mathews and Ronald Aultman, said they expected to put up the bail Monday and free Hagler.

They have 90 days in which to file an exception to District Judge Dave McGee's ruling that Gov. Allan Shivers legally ordered him turned over to Oklahoma authorities.

Agent Golden Kennedy of the Oklahoma Crime bureau disclosed that Hagler checked into the Roosevelt hotel in Waco two days after the murder with four or five suitcases and a large footlocker.

"He just didn't happen to wake up from a drunk there," Kennedy said. "He was preparing to take a long trip."

Three days after the murder, Hagler, who had registered as "Dale Waggoner," telephoned Fort Worth police chief Cato Highower that authorities were wrong in believing the body in the station wagon was his. He returned to Fort Worth and was charged with the murder.

The luggage has not been found and Kennedy said Hagler had plenty of time to dispose of it. He returned to Fort Worth in his new automobile about noon on Oct. 13. It was 10 hours later before his automobile was taken to the garage.

Hagler's bride, the former Elizabeth Marla Bergmann, 25, was with relatives. They were out of their honeymoon less than 24 hours when Hagler had to surrender on the Oklahoma extradition order.

The citation for the award states that these cadets have demonstrated outstanding qualities of leadership, high moral character, and a definite aptitude for military service. According to Major Cann, who heads the Northeast State ROTC, the award carries with it the privilege of applying directly for a regular army commission. This is not possible to any other cadet.

Any student completing the advance course in ROTC may apply for an army commission, but not immediately for the regular army, and not without first undergoing training from which the Distinguished Military Students are exempt.

Cadets being chosen for the badge are first tentatively designated toward the end of their junior year by the professor of military science and tactics, on the advice of his staff of army officers and non-commissioned officers. The student is then given special command jobs at summer ROTC camp, and graded more carefully as to performance than those not being considered for the award. A special rating form is used at camp to grade these cadets. If a student's performance at camp meets the expectations of his tentative appointment, he is conferred the honor during the last term of his senior year.

State Police Are Criticized By Grand Jury

ALEXANDRIA, La., UP—The Rapides parish grand jury criticized state police and said their investigative work sometimes fell "far short of fairness."

Jury foreman Joe W. Pitts made public a report yesterday after a three-day session. The jury also returned six true bills but names will not be released until after the persons are arrested.

The jury report said state police in some cases had failed to secure adequate evidence or information. The jurors urged state police administrators to train troopers in investigative techniques to insure thorough collection of evidence.

A parade will be held that afternoon beginning at 2 p.m. Business firms, civic organizations, and riding clubs are invited to enter floats and to participate in the parade.

Lodge Says UN Helped To Stop Red Aggression

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 23—UP—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said Saturday that the United Nations has played a decisive part in winning five major victories for the free world over communism in its nine years of existence.

Lodge, chief of the U. S. delegation, issued a special statement on the occasion of UN Day, which will be observed throughout the world Sunday just nine years after the charter came into force.

"The UN charter," Lodge said, "expresses a practical belief—that international teamwork can keep the peace."

He said, "For the United States and the overwhelming majority of the 60 members, adoption of this charter was a great act of faith. For the Soviet Union alone, it was an act of cynicism."

The "miracle," Lodge said, is that "despite unending Soviet attempts at sabotage, the rest of us have made the charter work."

Lodge pointed out that there is no major military conflict in the world at present and added that "we hope, therefore, that the UN will concentrate this year on President Eisenhower's plan to make the atom work for peace."

Lodge cited several big successes of the UN, five of them over communism:

1. "Extinguishing the threatened Communist aggression in Iran and causing withdrawal of Soviet troops there."
2. "Abandonment of the Communist war against Greece."
3. "Preventing open warfare over Kashmir between India and Pakistan."
4. "The advent of Israel into the family of nations and the ending of the war in the Holy Land."
5. "The successful fight of 16 free nations to repel the bloody Communist aggression in Korea."
6. "We stopped the Soviet plot to use its UN veto to torpedo the Monroe Doctrine and take over Guatemala."

Lodge continued to keep Communist China out of the UN—thus keeping the UN faithful to its character as an organization of "peace-loving" nations, and also preventing an immense gain in prestige and influence for world communism."

Haiti Death Toll From Hurricane, Floods, Now 400

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Oct. 23—UP—The head of the Haitian Red Cross said tonight last week's Hurricane Hazel and the floods in her wake killed more than 400 persons.

The last previous estimate from official sources early this week placed the total at 74 dead in Haiti.

The Red Cross chief, Dr. Louis Roy, did not say whether the new figure includes the 260 estimated dead in a landslide that buried the mountain village of Berly last Tuesday night. The Berly disaster was regarded as an aftermath of the hurricane.

The death toll from Hurricane Hazel in the United States and Canada was 178.

Only an occasional leg or arm sticking out of the earth marked the center of the village 20 miles south of here that has become a mass grave for all but two of its inhabitants.

Dr. Roy said he was compiling casualty figures on the hurricane disaster, and would report them Monday. The preliminary report showed many more deaths than had been anticipated and damage far beyond original estimates. Communications are still down over a big part of the mountain-rimmed country.

Dr. Roy flew in a U. S. Army scout plane today over the farm village of Mapou in a basin of the southern mountains. He found large areas submerged. Roofs of houses showed holes through which residents apparently had sought to escape fast rising waters. Water reached near the tops of 36-foot palm trees in some places. There were no signs of human or animal life.

The biggest known single area of disaster was Berly village. Its fate was disclosed last night by a U. S. helicopter team that landed on the village site.

Harrington, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Andrews. Burial will be in the Rayville Masonic Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home of Rayville.

Active pallbearers will be R. S. Hargis, E. B. Carson, Joe Ineich, Dr. H. C. Chambers, J. R. Aycock, Henry Blakeman, Pete McKinney, C. W. Gaines, From Elber, and Woodrow Coats. Honorary pallbearers will be all friends of the family.

The body will lie in state at the residence in Rayville until time for services.

LITTLE FELLOW RAISES BIG STINK—The Max Levins of Des Moines are busy deodorizing their $18,000 home after this little furry animal raised a "big stink" about being prodded from under a davenport. How the animal, popularly known as a civet cat or spotted skunk, got into the house isn't known. Getting him out was another matter. After a lively chase, Willis Hollingsworth (right) of the Animal Rescue League nabbed the beast with a spring stick device. Sidney Levins, Max's son, watches as Hollingsworth holds the animal out the window. (AP Wirephoto)

Former Ole Miss Football Captain To Head Anti-Segregation Councils, Now Being Formed Throughout Miss.

INDIANOLA, Miss., UP—A 32-year-old red-headed planter who once captained the Mississippi football team has been selected to call the signals for Mississippi's "citizens councils," county organizations dedicated to preserving segregation.

Robert B. Patterson, an ardent exponent of white supremacy, is executive secretary for the councils and will open a full-time office in Winona next month. He has been active for some weeks now in getting council members ready to fight for continued separation of the races.

Councils, composed of white male citizens, are now organized in 25 counties, Patterson said. Every county in the Delta except Coahoma has an organization. The belt of organized counties extends eastward to the Alabama line. Only three in south Mississippi are listed so far it is chiefly a Delta organization.

Patterson, a hulking 200 pounder who stands six foot two, rents 1585 acres of Sunflower county land on which he has been growing cotton for the past four years. He has two daughters and a four-month old son. Before moving here he farmed at Germantown, Tenn. He is a World War II veteran and was captain of the Mississippi State football team in 1942.

He has 35 Negro tenant families on his plantation.

Patterson has been sending council members statements on organization of the councils and on segregation itself. In a letter of Aug. 31 he sent out a list of reading matter to which he suggested that one member of each council subscribe.

Even though some of his recommended reading is anti-Semitic, and some anti-Catholic, Patterson denied the councils follow those teachings.

"Some of our best members are Jews," he said.

The reading list includes publications by the National Association for the Advancement and Protection of the Majority of White People, Inc., Griffin, Ga. For America, Chicago; The Defenders, Wichita, Kans.; National Association for the Advancement of White People, Washington; The Cross and the Flag, Los Angeles; National Citizens Protective Association, Inc., St. Louis; The Christian Nationalist, Los Angeles; and Pro-Southerners, Ft. Pierce, Fla.

Persons who plan to enter the parade are asked to call either of the following numbers: 8088, 8832, 2-6435, 2-6146, or 3-8801.

JOURNEY'S END—William Willis, 61-year-old adventurer, holds his pet cat aboard his 35-foot balsawood raft after arriving at Pago Pago, Samoa, to complete a drifting 115-day voyage across the Pacific from Peru. Willis, a Texan who now makes his home in New York, landed on Samoa on Oct. 13. His solo trip was comparable to that of the raft Kon-Tiki on which 6 Scandinavians rode across the Pacific 7 years ago. The straight line distance between Peru and Samoa is 6,500 miles. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Sydney)

Nixon Or Sen. Morse May Cast Deciding Vote Next Year On Senate Control

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Either one of two men with widely different political views—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore)—may cast the vote next January that will decide whether the Republicans or Democrats control the next Senate.

First of all, many people think the now closely divided Senate—Republicans 49, Democrats 46, Independent 1—is still going to be close after the Nov. 2 voting to elect 37 senators.

That's where Nixon and Morse enter the all-important control picture. Morse has said he would vote with the Democrats—if his vote is needed—to organize the new Senate. If the Democrats should win control, they would fill all committee chairmanships and be in charge of steering legislation.

They would have to show a net gain of three seats to have a clear majority without Morse's help. This would make the division 49 Democrats, 46 Republicans, and 1 Independent.

They would need a net of only two, however, if Morse voted with them or refrained from voting. This would make the lineup 48 Democrats and 47 Republicans with Morse not voting, or 49-47 if he lined up with the Democrats. In either case a tie would be avoided.

A one-seat gain by the Democrats, with Morse joining them on an organization vote, would bring a 48-48 tie, which Nixon could break in favor of the Republicans under his constitutional prerogative.

Father Jailed After Son Caught Speeding

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. Oct. 22 (AP)—A father is in jail here because his son was caught speeding.

Zebadee Wilson was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor for sending his 15-year-old son on an errand in an auto when the boy didn't have a license.

Police said the youth was caught driving 60 miles an hour in the city. The father was jailed yesterday in default of a $100 bond.

of voting to break deadlocks.

If there ever was any doubt about a vice president being able to vote in case of ties on motions to organize the Senate, Asst. Senate Parliamentarian Floyd M. Riddick does not share it.

He told a reporter today he was almost certain a vice president has never had to cast a vote except to break ties on legislation, but he said there was no doubt at all about his power to dissolve an organizational tie.

COOPERATION BETWEEN the American Red Cross and the state Civil Defense agency in Louisiana is discussed by top officials and northeast Louisiana representatives of the organization. They are (left to right) Jerry Coron, Monroe, Red Cross field representative; Brig. Gen. Francis A. Woolfley, state Civil Defense director; John S. Billings, Atlanta, director of field services for the Southeastern area of the Red Cross, and Clay Johnson, Monroe area field representative, state Civil Defense. Billings told the staffs of both groups, at a meeting October 19 at state Civil Defense headquarters, that Louisiana is one of the few states in the nation where state Civil Defense and Red Cross staffs have effected such cooperative planning.

Active 25 years During the quarter-century history of the YWCA in Monroe, it has played an important and active part in community life. October 1929 plans for the organization were formulated with Miss Jordana Flournoy, a prominent leader in the community, as its Provisional Chairman.

The first executive committee was composed of Mrs. Jessie Sadler, general chairman, Mrs. J. B. Pollard, campaign chairman, Mrs. C. E. Slagle, speaker's chairman, and Mrs. B. P. Hardie, general activities chairman.

Through the efforts of Mrs. W. L. Ethridge as housing chairman a building was secured on the corner of DeSiard and South Grand and a cafeteria was started.

In January, 1930, twenty-one women of this community were elected as the first board of directors. They were: Miss Jordana Flournoy, Mrs. Palmer Hardie, Mrs. J. L. The bride-elect's gifts were displayed on tables covered with white organdy ruffled cloths gathered at intervals with small bows of green ribbon and tiny rose buds. Assisting the hostesses with the party were Mrs. Angie Peoples and Mrs. Jack Abraugh.

Guests departed through the spacious gardens of the Sims home which were decorated with white candles in hurricane lamps.

More than two hundred guests called during the appointed hours.

Mer Rouge Is Scene Of Beautiful Announcement Tea For Miss Donna Bacon

An outstanding affair of the fall social season, was the tea given by Mrs. G. A. Hume of Mer Rouge and Mrs. Clifton Flinn, of Monroe, honoring Miss Donna Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Bacon of Mer Rouge. Miss Bacon's engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Martin Rogers, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Rogers of Bastrop, was formally announced at this time.

The announcement tea took place in the colonial home of Mrs. Hume on Thursday between the hours of three-thirty and five-thirty.

Greeting guests on their arrival was Miss Lenna Armstrong, young cousin of the honoree. Also welcoming them were Mrs. Corbin Turpin of Monroe and Mrs. W. T. Blackwell of Mer Rouge.

In the reception line was Mrs. Hume, wearing a navy blue lace afternoon dress with a corsage of pink carnations, who presented each guest to her niece, Miss Donna Bacon. The honored guest was lovely in a cocktail length dress of white nylon net embroidered completely in silver thread, with a white stole around her shoulders. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses trimmed in silver ribbon.

Mrs. G. D. Bacon, stood beside her daughter, attired in a becoming model of soft blue silk, with a surprise neckline and full skirt. On her shoulder she wore pink carnations.

The guests were presented by Mrs. Bacon to Mrs. W. A. Rogers, mother of the groom-elect. Mrs. Rogers chose a dress of mauve lace, trimmed in tiny silk bands of the same shade and had a corsage of lavender orchids.

Mrs. Clifton Flinn, co-hostess, wore a ballerina length gown of pink nylon net, studded with rhinestones. A pink net duster and pink roses, completed the outfit.

Waiting to usher the tea guests into the dining room were Mrs. Warren White and Mrs. Max Broadnax Jr., sister of the honoree and Mrs. Elaine Armstrong, all of Mer Rouge.

A veritable "old-fashion garden" greeted the guests as they stepped into the dining room. A large antique table, covered in a cloth of Italian cut-work over pink satin, held, as the center decor, large portraits of Miss Bacon and Mr. Rogers, framed in a heart of maiden-hair fern, sweetheart roses, and silver bows. Beneath the heart was a hand-scrolled card bearing the good news — "Donna and Martin" November 13, 1954.

A crystal and silver epergne, filled with pink roses and sprays of Rose of Montana, completed the picture.

Presiding over the cut glass punch bowls were Mrs. F. J. Willey Sr. of Monroe and Mrs. Shelby White of Mer Rouge.

Silver and crystal trays of delectable heart shaped and ribbon sandwiches, cheese straws, and mints were passed among the guests by Mrs. Alan Turpin and Mrs. W. M. McKelvey of Monroe and Mrs. E. M. Clark, Mrs. Jessye Graves, Mrs. Willis Montgomery, Mrs. Benton Hornbeak, and Miss Debbie Pinkston of Mer Rouge, Mrs. Evelyn Morrow of Bastrop and Miss Jo Anne Bell of Delhi.

More than four hundred guests from Monroe, Bastrop, Oak Ridge, Rayville, Bonita, Collinston, Jones and Mer Rouge called during the appointed hours.

Having the bridge-club crowd for luncheon? Then serve avocado halves filled with shrimp. To serve 12, you'll need six avocados and three pounds of shrimp. Marinate the cooked and cleaned shrimp in a tangy French dressing; just before serving drain lightly and arrange shrimp in the cavities of the avocado halves. Top with a little mayonnaise and garnish as desired. Sliced hard-cooked egg and capers make a pretty garnish; so do small radish roses.

TALLULAH, La., Oct.—The Tallulah Book Club held the October meeting at the club house with Mrs. Earl Johnson as leader of the program on planning a better community. Music Teachers Have Interesting Monthly Meeting

The October meeting of Music Teacher's Association of Monroe and West Monroe was held in the home of Mrs. B. D. Albritton with Mrs. Benny Phelps and Mrs. Harvey Nelson, hostesses.

Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, president, presided over the business meeting. The secretary, Mrs. R. G. Luckett gave a report on interesting information from Miss Polly Gibbs, who is Louisiana president of the Music Teachers Association, which urged national affiliation for each individual member and attendance at the state convention in Natchitoches, October 28-30.

Miss Lila Scogin, past president of the local organization, was commended by Mrs. Lawson for her services to the group during the past two years.

Miss Eloise Stanhope was named to serve as parliamentarian during the absence of Mr. James F. Monroe who is on a leave of absence at the University of North Carolina.

Reports from the national music camp at Interlochen, Mich. were presented in appraisal of Miss Carole Eady's excellent record at the camp as 1954 winner of the Hewitt contest which is sponsored by the Music Teacher's Association. Miss Eady, a student of R. Frank Parker, was termed as exceptionally talented.

Current events in music chosen for the interest of the teachers, were presented by Mrs. Albritton. Mrs. W. W. Bullock, Jr., served as moderator for a panel discussion entitled "The Value of A Cultural Council." Mr. Parker and Mrs. Albritton participated as panel members.

Vital consideration of the subject was pursued with Mrs. Roy Fisher, a guest of the evening, providing in summary an enthusiastic delineation of the significance and possible realization of such a council for Monroe.

During the social hour which followed, the hostesses served refreshments to: Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mrs. Bennie Andrews, Mrs. W. W. Bullock, Jr., Mrs. Willys Hopkins, Miss Edwina Hopkins, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mrs. R. G. Luckett, Mr. R. Frank Parker, Miss Lila Scogin, Mrs. Eloise Stanhope, Mrs. M. M. Tabb.

The wonderful variety of campus wear makes the blue jeans of yesterday seem ever more dreary. This time it's knickers in wool tweed, worn with a middy blouse. Nice with the high socks, but possible without, too.

Add crumbled crisply-cooked bacon to Welsh rarebit for extra-good taste. Delicious with a salad for Sunday-night supper!

MR. AND MRS. EDDY RAY HAMMONS

Couple Say Vows In Choudrant

In a beautiful and impressive candlelight ceremony solemnized Friday evening, at 7:00 p.m. in the Alabama Presbyterian Church near Choudrant, Miss Berlie Rae Dugdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Dugdale, became the bride of Eddy Ray Hammons, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hammons, both families of Choudrant. The Rev. W. R. Gage performed the double-ring ceremony.

A white wedding arch decorated with green ivy formed the background for the exchange of vows. On either side of the altar, tall baskets held white mums and green foliage and gleaming tapers burned in floor candelabra. The family pews were marked by white satin bows.

Ushering guests to their seats were Mitchell Dugdale of Choudrant, and John E. Upchurch of Ruston, cousins of the bride. They also lighted the candles.

A program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony was played by Miss Judy Dugdale, sister of the bride, who accompanied the soloist, Miss Betty Martin of Ruston, as she sang "Because," "Oh, Promise Me," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Nellie Smith of Choudrant. She wore a light blue waltz-length dress of net over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of pink mums.

Mr. Emory Ambrose of Choudrant served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, James Dugdale, was lovely in a white waltz-length gown of net over taffeta. A halo-type head piece held the finger-tip veil of imported illusion and she carried a white Bible topped with a purple - throated orchid with cascading streamers. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. In the receiving line were the mothers, Mrs. G. R. Dugdale who was wearing a navy blue faille with pink accessories, and Mrs. W. S. Hammons whose dress was of black faille with black and white accessories. They both wore corsages of pink mums.

Miss Anna Dora Webb of Monroe was in charge of the bride's book.

The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth and held at one end the crystal punch bowl and at the opposite end the three tiered wedding cake. The centerpiece was a bowl of red roses and Rose of Montana placed on a reflector. Mrs. Robert Edwards served the wedding cake and Mrs. Earl Bennett presided at the punch bowl. Misses Opal and Mary Ambrose, Mrs. Frank Hammons, and Mrs. Norris Smith assisted in the courtesies.

When the couple left for an undisclosed destination, the bride was wearing a navy blue suit with pink and navy accessories. Pinned at her shoulder was the orchid from her bouquet.

Two Hostesses Entertain Club In Ferriday

The home of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Pankey was beautifully decorated with flowers reminiscent of the fall season, when Mrs. Pankey and Mrs. M. W. Greathouse entertained members of the Ferriday Woman's Club.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. J. M. Johnson. The club collect was given in unison by the members after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary Mrs. C. T. Lee.

The reports of the various departments were given and Mrs. Johnson appointed Mrs. Pankey to serve as chairman of the "Club-woman" magazine. Mrs. Pankey urged all members to subscribe for the magazine and make the club 100 per cent in subscriptions, especially since the national chairman is Mrs. B. V. Todd, from Louisiana.

Mrs. J. O. Glanton, Mrs. Thomas Bell and Mrs. Clyde Webber were appointed to decorate a float to be entered in the parish fair parade Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Shirley Briggs was appointed to serve as welfare chairman for the ensuing year.

The president gave the highlights of our state president's bulletin and her message to the many club members over the state.

After the business session the meeting was turned over to the program chairman Mrs. G. P. Bullis who introduced the speakers for the afternoon.

Mrs. V. M. Smith reviewed the book "The Road To The Sea" by Florence L. Dorsey. The book was pertaining to the life of Mr. James B. Eads who spent a large part of his life in developing the Mississippi River.

Mrs. C. T. Lee gave an article entitled "Jetties From Georgia" taken from the magazine section of the Times Picayune. It was concerning the Mississippi River Commission and the reinforcements of jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi River, with especial work done at the southwest pass which was later named for Mr. Eads. Four new members and one old member were welcomed into the club.

Those present in addition to the hostesses Mrs. Pankey and Greathouse were: Mrs. J. M. Johnson, Mrs. W. E. Person, Mrs. J. E.

Garden Jobs For Fall Planting

In behalf of the Home Demonstration members and herself, the Home Demonstration agent of Ouachita parish, wishes to express our appreciation to Mr. John Birdsong, manager of the Ouachita fair, for his kind and thoughtful act of having Mrs. Jewel McQuiller brought to see the fair. Mrs. McQuiller worked hard and diligently with the people of Ouachita for thirty or more years. She is loved by them. Her interest in their welfare is as keen as ever. They were so happy to see her smiling, joking and giving many words of encouragement as she greeted them. Mr. Birdsong, thanks again. Recipe For Washing Nylon Coat Give the coat a five-minute wash in that wonderful washing machine setting at "warm," that's about 100 degrees, to which has been added a detergent, using the same amount as you do for family wash. Cut the final spin to half its normal time. If you have a dryer, toss the coat and a couple of big, clean Turkish towels in the dryer with the temperature setting at "synthetic" — fifteen to twenty minutes dries it. If you do not have a dryer, remove coat, do not spin last round, but let it drip dry after being placed on a coat hanger. Make sure the lining and fittings are washable by studying the tag which was on it when you purchased it.

Gardening Suggestion
Last Call for Planting Strawberries: Strawberries in this area should be planted immediately on a well-prepared fertilized seed bed. Konvoy is the variety recommended by the L. S. U. extension for the home gardens. You are urged to use Louisiana grown plants. Names of growers from whom you may get plants can be obtained by calling 3-2251.

Pot Plants
With the cool weather here, we will have to spend more time indoors. We can make living indoors more enjoyable by having pot plants in the living area. Pot plants will continue growing and keep a fresher look during the winter if repotted now. A good formula for soil mixture to use is one part garden soil, one part sand, one part well rotted manure, one part peat. You may use two parts of rotted manure instead of peat. Mix material well and sift through one-fourth inch wire mesh. Clean pots thoroughly. Put rocks, coarse ashes, or broken pieces of stones in the bottom of the pot. Moisten the soil mixture before placing the plant.

Bulbs
It is the last call for planting spring blooming bulbs according to L. S. U. horticulturist. You can find a variety of these bulbs from which you may make your selection: hyacinths, scilla tulips, daffodils. While you are planting, don't forget to plant some lilies. There are many varieties of lilies from which to choose, but three dependable varieties are: liliun david, spectacular; liliun candidum, madonna; and liliun speciosum rubrum.

The Vegetable Garden
The following vegetables can withstand cold and can be planted now: beets, mustard, turnips, carrots, shallots, kale, spinach, lettuce, radishes, collards, and garlic.

Plant A Tree
Why not plant a tree and why not let this tree be a pecan tree. Pecans should be planted in December or early January. The L. S. U. extension horticulturist recommends these varieties: Desirable, Stuart and Success. Elliott and Jennings varieties are also recommended but they produce small sized pecans.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT P. HUMBLE

Miss Anderson Robert Humble Pledge Troth

Miss Ronzana Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Anderson of Enterprise, Alabama, became the bride of Robert P. Humble, son of Mrs. Sallie S. Humble and the late Mr. Humble of Calhoun, in a double ring ceremony at the Park Avenue Baptist Church in Enterprise. The Reverend A. O. Martz performed the ceremony.

White cathedral tapers in branched candelabra illuminated the altar. The archway was entwined in ivy with a white satin center bow. Tall baskets of white gladioli decorated each side of the altar. Miss Ann Martz presented the nuptial music.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a ballerina length gown of white tulle and lace over taffeta. The lace formed a close fitting redingote with high neck and long pointed sleeves. This was worn over a strapless gown with bodice of lace and a very full skirt of tulle over a taffeta. A small coronet of white satin decorated with seed pearls and flowers held her finger tip veil of illusion. She carried a small white bible topped with a white orchid with white carnation streamers. Mrs. Leonard Jones Jr. was the bride's only attendant. Her dress was of blue taffeta. She carried a nosegay of white carnations. Bill Humble was his brother's best man. Thomas Humble, another brother served as usher. The mother of the bride wore a pink dress with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore black with pink accessories. They both wore white carnation corsages.

After a wedding trip to Silver Beach, Florida, the young couple will make their home in Calhoun where Mr. Humble is attending Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston.

News From The Public Library

It is always a pleasure to receive new books by well-established authors, because we know that their devotees are eagerly awaiting the release of their new books. Among this week's new additions are four titles by very popular authors, all who have a large following and all entirely different. "Blue Hurricane" is the title of the new book by F. Van Wyck Mason and is an exciting story of the Civil War, bringing in entirely new material. "Variable Winds at Jaina" is another story of the Whiteoak family of Jaina. The time is 1951 and the story follows that of "Henry's Daughter" in order. If you are reading this saga, you will want this newest title. "One White Star" by Gladys Hasty Carroll is a novel concerned with the fundamental relationship that exists between man and God. It is fiction to Mrs. Carroll's many admirers through its compelling story and the strength of its rewarding philosophy. Then for mystery readers there is the new book by Rex Stout "The Black Mountain." It is another story of that master detective, Nero Wolfe.

The other three books of new fiction are by authors who have written other books, but are not as well established as those listed in the previous paragraph. "The View from the Parsonage" is the title of a book by Shelia Kay-Smith. It is set in the English countryside and is the story of a family as seen by the parish priest. It is an interesting and moving story and one that is well worth reading. "Mooncape" is the title of the latest book by Miki Waltari, who has never written anything to come up to his "The Egyptian." This is a collection of short stories and will appeal to many readers. "Flamingo Prince" by Rubylea Hall is a careful recreation of the boyhood of the great Seminole chieftan

Golf lovers of this area will be interested in three new books on golf: "My Partner, Ben Hogan," by Jimmy Demaret is an inside story of professional golf and one of its greatest players. "How to Play Your Best Golf All the Time" by Tommy Armour takes you right onto the lesson tee at the Boca Raton Club in Florida. The print and the illustrations are especially good. "How to Put Power and Direction in Your Golf" by Joe Novak is an excellent book of golf instructions and even has a group of 3-D pictures with special glasses for viewing them. "Developing Farm Woodlands" by John Preston is a book which should be of interest to everyone in the lumber or paper industry.

Miss Flanders Speaks To Book Club

The October Meeting of Welcome Branch Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. Henson Coon with Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. S. S. Douglas, and Mrs. Cyril Yancey co-hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Zell Smith opened the meeting with the Club Collect followed by roll call and minutes of September meeting.

Two new members: Mrs. Robert L. Carson and Mrs. J. A. Clark were welcomed, also three guests: Mrs. E. J. Blake, Mrs. D. T. Barksdale and Miss Frances Flanders.

The club voted to go on record as approving the action of the Police Jury regarding the ban on the sale of lewd comic books on news stands in Monroe, and that a letter be written to this effect.

Parsonettes Entertained By Mrs. Geissen

A Japanese theme was carried out in the program by Mrs. Geissen who is a former missionary to Japan.

The reception rooms were decorated with Mrs. Geissen's collection of Japanese crafts. Of focal interest in the living room was a miniature five-room Japanese house completely furnished in the native fashion.

Dolls, lanterns and other Japanese novelties added to the occasion. Following the business meeting, the guests were invited into the dining room where a Japanese dinner was served.

Guests enjoying the occasion were: Mrs. A. W. Townsend, Mrs. J. C. Skinner, Mrs. Otis Spinks, Mrs. A. A. McKnight, all of Alexandria, Mrs. B. A. Galloway of Natchitoches, Mrs. Luther Booth of Winfield, Mrs. Ed Barksdale of Oakdale, Mrs. Porter Carroway of Pineville, Mrs. John Kellogg of Upram, Mrs. Carl Lipe of Ellie.

D. A. R. Meets In Oak Grove

Mrs. W. A. Lovelady, Mrs. J. T. Key and Mrs. H. T. Van Fossen, descendants of Francis Scott Key and families, were guests of the Oak Grove D. A. R. October meeting for which Mrs. Mildred C. Franklin was regent.

The impressive program opened with presentation of U. S. Flag and the D. A. R. flag by pages, Donna Pulley and Rachael Millikin. Miss Alene Holland, chaplain, offered the prayer and Mrs. Shaw Millikin led the pledge of allegiance. Mary Alice Thomas was accompanist for the assembly singing of the national anthem. Mrs. Thelma D. Pulley recited the "American Creed."

Mrs. S. A. Holt, chairman of American Music, gave most interesting short biographies of the lives of Francis Scott Key, from whom she is descended, and of Stephen Foster. Miss Thomas contributed Foster's well known songs "Swanee River," "Jeannie With The Light Brown Hair," and "Oh Susanna." Mrs. R. A. Everett's stirring remarks were on the D. A. R.'s theme of 1954, "National Defense and True Patriotism."

Other out of town guests welcomed for the meeting were Mrs. R. G. Jarrell, Epps, Miss Catherine Barham, Oak Ridge and Mrs. Blanche Abney, of Forest.

Jack Ross, Jr. Speaks To Club

LAKE PROVIDENCE — East Carroll Garden Club members were well informed on "How To Grow Beautiful Roses," by Jack Ross Jr., of Shreveport, at the October meeting.

Mrs. Kiley Mangum provided the arrangement of the month, of hibiscus and begonia vased in a cypress knee.

Mrs. Lamonte Wright, Ruston, was announced as speaker and designer for the Nov. 9 meeting, with the topic, "Holiday Decorations." Garden Clubs in Delhi, Newellton, Rayville, St. Joseph, and Tallulah, and Eudora, Ark., have been invited.

Mrs. Will Herzog, Mrs. J. E. Peeler, and Mrs. W. B. Ragland, Sr., October hostesses, carried out gold in the refreshment table and serving of coffee and home made cookies.

Loflin Reunion Held Sunday

The Loflin reunion held at Salem Baptist Church near Eros last Sunday had the largest attendance since its organization. The meeting was called to order by its president, C. R. Griffith, of Chatham. After singing a couple of songs, prayer was offered by Rev. Lyman Shows. Henry O. Hearne then gave the welcome address which was responded to, by Asbury Burson, Strong, Ark. A quartet next sang a special number, after which various groups of the relatives were recognized. Mrs. Credell Sims of Monroe, accompanied by Miss Maridene Hearne, Monroe, at the piano, sang. Hollis C. Hearne, of La. Tech, then gave an address which was enjoyed by all.

Officers were elected for the next year. The incumbents, C. R. Griffith, president; Mrs. Pearl Chatham, vice-president; and Roy N. Hearne, secretary were reelected.

The oldest relative present was Mrs. Emma Parish, Shreveport. The relative coming the greatest distance was Mrs. Bell Bandy Richerson, Kerrville, Tex.

Catahoula Grand Jury Returns Two True Bills

HARRISONBURG, Oct. 23 (Special) — Two true bills were returned by the Catahoula parish grand jury this week, with one person indicted on two charges.

Paul C. Lunsford of Ferriday, was indicted on one charge of appearing in a public place in a drunken and disorderly condition and in such a manner as would foreseeably disturb and alarm the public.

In its report, the grand jury recommended that the Catahoula police jury make repairs to the celling as soon as possible.

MRS. ELMER BILBRAY

Seek 40,000 In S.S. School During '54

It is estimated that 1,887,390 white people live in lovely Louisiana. Statisticians have estimated that at least 1,242,011 of these are not engaged actively in any church program. That is the reason Louisiana Baptists have been seeking to enroll 40,000 in Sunday school during 1954. The 1,150 Baptist churches recognize that enrolling 40,000 in the schools does not complete the task — Bible teaching is the aim.

"Better teaching — better teachers" is the theme for the state Sunday school clinic to be conducted at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe, October 25-29. Expecting to enroll more than 1,000 for the 5-day clinic, Rev. J. L. Polard, state Sunday school secretary, has advised that every effort has been put forth to enlist the best in the teaching field in order to better train Sunday school workers. With more than 34,000 teen-agers who are not receiving any religious instruction Mrs. Elmer Bilbray of Alexandria, a state approved worker, has been engaged to conduct the conference for intermediate workers. This is a rare opportunity for intermediate workers to better their teaching ability and become better acquainted with their pupils needs. Conference leaders have been engaged for all age groups.

For information regarding the clinic Melvin A. Bradley, district Sunday school superintendent, may be contacted at Tel. 2-5104.

40 Hours Of Adoration Is Set Here Now

Rev. Mr. J. C. Marsh, V. F., pastor of St. Matthew's Church, dean of the Monroe diocese, announces that the "40 hours adoration" will take place at St. Matthew's on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 24th through 26th. The adoration service of the Eucharist is the central object of Catholic liturgy. This devotion is held every year on the days fixed by the bishop of Alexandria. The forty hours is in memory of the forty days in Lent and also of the time during which the Sacred Body of Jesus was in the sepulchre. During the devotion, all the church's homages centers around the altar of exposition.

The forty hours devotion will begin on Sunday at the eleven o'clock high mass, the celebrant being the Rev. Father David Dabria, assistant pastor at St. Matthew's. Mr. Marsh will preach Sunday night at the six o'clock mass, the Rev. Father Walfrid, OFM, will preach on Monday and Tuesday nights at 7:30, there will be services and Father Walfrid will preach. There will also be a holy hour service for the St. Matthew's High School on Monday and Tuesday afternoon from 2:30-3:30.

At both the opening and closing the Litany of the Saints is chanted, and a procession of the blessed sacrament is held. Many priests of the diocese will be present for the occasion.

From Paris come hats that will delight the traveling woman. Little head-luggers of jersey, they pack in a breeze into the handbag or pocketbook. They cover the ears and are worn low on the neck.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

Make The Patio A Family Project

Don't let the light showers fool you into thinking there's enough moisture in the soil. We started working up a bed Saturday and found the ground so dry we had to soak before we could finish the digging. Unless there's been rain since the writing of this you'll need to watch your garden closely for extreme dryness. Camellia buds will drop if the plants get too dry.

Patio Time

No — not for sitting since cold weather is almost here but it is building time. Often the structural interest of a patio will help pull the house out into space. Sometimes a patio gives a picture for a large window and seems to bring the outside inside. And, of course, in spring and fall a shaded brick outdoor place is delightful for eating, barbecuing, games for the children, and dancing for the teen agers.

The Paul Finks have just completed a patio. The picture window in the den looked out over the side yard. A large tree just outside the window had depleted the soil so no grass or vegetation would grow. The answer was a patio around the tree in an interesting shape.

Needless to say, the more hard surface we have in the yard, the less space we have to keep mowed. We have a landscape architect friend who said, when quite young, he'd never have a yard with grass to mow. So — in his garden he has four hard surfaced patios and the sloping lawn is planted with ground covers.

Building The Patio

Look around your own garden and find a place that sets the southern breeze and not too far from the kitchen. Brick is the easiest for the family to handle, and making this a family project is conducive to fine family relationships. First get the place level. No patio is comfortable if you stomp your toe every time you walk across it. The brick can be level with the ground or elevated, depending on your drainage. Work out the kind of pattern you want —herring bone, basket weave or just straight. Have a mixture ready of hair sand and half cement. Use this mixture dry. No wet mix for amateurs. Put about a half inch of this under each brick as you lay it. Use a level as you work. You can leave the brick about a half inch apart or you can jam them. If you leave a space between sweep dry sand in this, and wet the entire area. A rain will probably come before you are through and take care of the wetting problem, or you can sweep the sand and cement mixture in the spaces between the brick, but this discolors your brick, badly. Eventually it wears off. Either way you get a nice permanent, stationary outdoor flooring.

Dried Arrangements

Did you see Mrs. Ben Coulter with her dried flower materials on the Around Home Show Tuesday? The arrangements she made were gorgeous. The boys at the TV station wanted to take them home to their wives. I'll give you a short summary of Mrs. Coulter's remarks. There are three methods of drying plant material. First, the hanging method. Hang plants upside down and put them in your attic or storage room. Shape the materials when you gather them. Pussy willow can be curved around a coat hanger and tied to dry. Some varieties suitable for this type of drying are: Roadside grasses, garden seed pods, golden rod, peonies, hydrangea.

The second method is by the box method, which preserves the color of the flowers. Remove stems and foliage, wire the heads of the flowers so you'll have some stems and wrap the wire with green tape. Put a layer of borax in a box. Place flowers face down and sprinkle with more borax. Put the lid on the box and leave for two or three weeks. Varieties best suited for drying this way are: Roses, Gaffodils, marigolds, zinnias, Mexican sun flower, and larkspur.

The third method is a mixture of half glycerin and half water. The magnolia, bay and autumn leaf branches will cure by placing the stems in the solution. Ivy and bay leaves should be submerged. Thank you Mrs. Coulter for a beautiful show and fine information.

Here and There

With the help of two talented women, we'll make a slip cover on KNOE-TV Tuesday at 2:30. That is — we'll begin. There will be three broadcasts making this cover on three successive Tuesdays—October 26, November 2, and November 9th at 2:30 p. m. You're invited to tune in and to call in after the show if there is any point we didn't make clear.

The Christmas fruit cake and cookies books are ready. This is the same one we gave out last year. If you didn't get your copy just call 3-2251. This book has cake recipes, cooked and uncooked—cheap and inexpensive and fruit cake cookies, macaroons, quick chocolate fudge cake and others. The recipes were sent me by Twin City housewives.

In commemoration of their twenty-fifth anniversary, open house will be held at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday, October 29th from 7:00 until 10:00 in the evening. You are invited to attend.

See you next Sunday.

A Monroe scrap metal firm executive, Dave Kaplan, has been appointed a member of the transportation committee of the Gulf Iron and Steel Inc.

The Institute is composed of scrap metal dealers and brokers. Teen-agers will welcome Grape Fizz when their clan gathers. To make the cold drink mix two cups of grape juice with a tablespoon of lemon juice, a tablespoon of sugar and a 12-ounce bottle of carbonated water. This amount makes four servings; increase quantities as desired.

Golden Rain Tree A Beauty In Bloom

Congratulations to the Mer Rouge Garden Club. They won the high score for the month ending September 28. A check was presented to Mrs. Fred E. Moss, president of the club. Another all blue-ribbon flower show this week!

The East Carroll Garden Club of Lake Providence staged a most colorful and imaginative display. Mrs. E. R. Hays and Mrs. Frank Parrish of Ruston served as judges.

In the arrangement section, first place was awarded to Mrs. W. Y. Bell. A most dramatic windswept arrangement in tints and tones of brown. On a circular brown wood plant, Mrs. Bell arranged a manzanita branch, eucalyptus pods, bottle tree pods and bread-fruit pods in a rhythmic manner.

Mrs. Catherine Richards was awarded second place for a beautiful mass arrangement of magnolia foliage and seed pods with celosia argentea (cockscomb) as a focal point.

Mrs. Edward Schneider was awarded third place. Against a chartreuse background, Mrs. Schneider created a lovely mass arrangement of nandina berries, ligustrum leaves and berries with roadside grasses and wisteria tendrils for height and airiness. The arrangement was placed in a chartreuse container of Oriental design.

In the horticulture section blue ribbons were awarded to Mrs. J. E. Peeler for Red Radiance roses and a blue ribbon to Miss Emyce Howard for purple salvia.

A lovely flowering tree that is often overlooked by southern gardeners is the Golden Rain tree (Koeleruteria paniculata), so called because of the showy yellow flowers. When the petals shatter

Farmerville Garden Club Plans School

The Farmerville Garden Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. L. Davidson with Mrs. Ralph Harper and Mrs. Allie Luzader as cohostesses.

The club president, Mrs. Guy Ludwig, presided and extended a cordial welcome to the visitors. Mrs. D. O. Ramsey and Mrs. M. J. Pearson. In the absence of Mrs. M. Stein Baughman, Mrs. W. C. Nicholson acted as secretary.

Flower arrangements were judged with the blue ribbon being awarded Mrs. Ralph Harper, the red ribbon, Mrs. L. C. Allen and the white ribbon Mrs. W. F. Goss. An attractive arrangement of wood roses from Hawaii was sent by Mrs. Pearson. This arrangement was not to be judged but was provided for the enjoyment of the club members.

In the "Block of the Month" Contest that the Club sponsors, the block on the south side of Plum Street, beginning with the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Elliott and ending with the home of Mrs. F. Hun and Miss Flowers, was selected.

Mrs. J. T. Spencer gave an interesting and informative talk on herbs. Mrs. Spencer also had prepared pamphlets on the uses of different herbs which were distributed to the members and guests.

Plans were discussed for a Flower Arranging School to be held in Farmerville and a committee was appointed to work out details.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses. The November meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Robert Ray James.

they drift to the ground in a truly golden rain. Am so proud that mine is now in bloom and a joy to behold. Later these flowers will be followed by three - parted pointed seed pods shading from iridescent pink to orange - red. Very showy. When ordering be sure to ask for the above mentioned variety, which is hardy as far north as Massachusetts. There is a similar variety that is not hardy in north Louisiana.

Aren't the golden October days wonderful? The days are just perfect for working outdoors. Now is the time to prepare that rose bed, plant all spring blooming bulbs except tulips. These should be supplied now while there is a good supply. Store on the lowest shelf in your refrigerator for two weeks or more and plant the last week in November. Also don't forget to plant your hardy annuals soon, so that they will be up and blooming before the heat of our late springs will them away.

As I write this the book club membership drive is now in full swing. We all enjoyed meeting the gracious and charming Alice Walworth Graham and are looking forward to her new book which will be published next March. All those who have seen the books are delighted with their beauty, and the wide selection of titles. Be sure to come in and see them this coming week. Representatives from garden clubs throughout the district will be on hand to greet you. Our exhibitors will be the Springtime Garden Club of Monroe.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Are You Satisfied With Your Garden

No one is ever satisfied with his garden. Most of us can hardly wait till planting time comes around each year. All spring and summer, we have been dissatisfied with some spot or some combination of plants, and "just dying to move them!" People who do not garden will never understand this. Even some of those who help us to dig in the ground are a little baffled by it. Right after the war, your columnist was visiting with Miss Sarah Butler in Baton Rouge. She had been away from "the plantation" during the war years and had just gone back there to try to rescue the garden. When she complained to her old gardener about having to move so many things, he said "All de Butlers is got to move a certin' amount of dirt every year, an' you jus' done got behind."

Well, the garden picture is constantly changing in the gardeners mind, and he has just got to move a "certin amount of dirt" to make things look like he wants them to. At this time of the year, most of us find that our gardens are getting bare looking. There may be plenty of big evergreens for backgrounds, hedges and formal pieces if the garden is a formal one, but there seem to be so few small evergreen things in the beds of flowers, on corners and on walls and banks. Every year, the column tries to send out warnings just before the leaves drop. Just as soon as the leaves fall, go out and look at the garden. You will remember how it looked with the foliage on the trees and shrubs, so this is the time to purchase and plant some of the smaller evergreen shrubs and plants. Even some bulbs have evergreen leaves here in the South. Scilla peruviana has large rosettes of evergreen leaves the size of dinner plates. The various spider-lilies in the group with the common red spider-lily (Lycoris) have evergreen leaves. Our common edging plant we call ophiopogon is evergreen. The larger kinds and the variegated-leaved ones make satisfactory patches of green in winter if you plant three or five together. Kurume azaleas can be kept small by pruning them back once or twice a year. The so-called mountain laurel is not necessarily from the mountains—Laurel, Mississippi was named for it because it was once plentiful there in the woods. There is also a small leaved rhododendron called Carolina rhododendron which is not much more than a small shrub with evergreen leaves.

For drought resistant plants, you cannot beat the yuccas of different kinds. They are evergreen and beautiful in a garden. The so-called pink yucca (Hesperaloe) is evergreen though the tufts of leaves are not very full. The daylilies from the deserts can be bought from Southern nurseries, too. Sometimes hotels grow them in jardiniere but they are hardy out of doors in the South. Old fashioned lavender, rosemary and lavender cotton (Santolina) are evergreen plants in just the size we want for small shrubs in the garden beds or on the edges. You can buy little specimens of the winter blooming heaths from the Mediterranean, too. These plants are sometimes called heather, but they are slightly different from heather—more compact, too, and better for gardens. Keep everything away from them so that they can get plenty of air. They like a spot where the sun will reach

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: After 13 years of married life to a very wonderful wife I started playing the field. My wife took it for seven years and then told me to choose between her and our two children and the women. Because I was involved at the time with a young woman I chose her. Her husband divorced her, my wife divorced me and we were married. I am now 49 and she is 27; we have been married one year.

Only now I know what my first wife and my children meant to me. I lie awake nights wondering what will happen to me as I cannot forget my first wife and children; I would give anything to wake up and find myself in a corner of our living room watching the television set together. My present wife tries but nothing she does satisfies me; she knows I am brooding over the situation and blames herself. She says she feels she is paying the penalty for being "the other woman."

I know I can never return to my original home but would like to tell other folks what lies at the end of my kind of a road... nothing but unhappiness. Tell them for me that no matter how good the fruit might look, its taste is mighty bitter. —Unhappy Wanderer.

Dear Ann: I am 47. A little over a year ago the man I have been dating asked me to marry him. I accepted and he seemed pleased. After six months, however, he stopped talking about it though we still date. I love him and don't know what to do.—No Name.

Can't get your tongue? Ask him what his intentions, now, are. You have every right to do so.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A POOL FOR A DEER

Here is a woodland scene for Junior Editors to make out of real material—not just a cutout.

1. To make your own real life model, first get the lid of a box about the size of a shoe box, or get boards to help you make a wooden tray that size. Fill this with sand. In the sand place your pool—either a deep saucer or a little foil dish used to hold frozen pies from your grocery store.

2. In the box, around the pool, place small stones and pack them into the sand. At one side place a larger stone, with as flat a surface as possible. Pick several sprigs of greenery and place them between the rocks and in the sand. Then put water in the pool.

3. From among your toys, pick a small deer or other animal and place him on the big rock so that he seems to be looking down on the pool. If you do not have a toy, cut out a lady from today's picture and place him there, folding the rock part back to make a base for his feet.

4. If you prefer, you can color the picture shown here after painting it down in the usual manner.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. One firm in manufacturing a band for laundered shirts which asks, "Have you kissed your wife this morning?" Many laundries are using it. This commanding question shot at him every morning is bound to cause any husband to reflect upon his oscillatory conduct. In many cases it may cause reform.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. By improving their reading ability. Psychologist Jack Holmes gave 12 big executives 12 ninety-minute sessions on reading improvement. Reading speed increased an average of 160 words per minute. Our booklet, "How To Read Faster and Better," will give executives — and others — extra time for golf, fishing, spanking junior, beating their wives, and other recreations. Sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Never, says Dr. Norman Brill, U. C. L. A. psychiatrist, until we do these things: (1) Change the public attitude that mental diseases are more disgraceful than bodily ills, and (2) train parents, teachers, and physicians to recognize emotional problems in children and cure them before they become genuine mental illnesses. Applause here.

M'Keithen Will Address Business Group Tuesday

John J. McKeithen, Columbia attorney recently elected to the Louisiana Public Service Commission, will address the West Monroe Businessmen's Association Tuesday at 7 p.m., according to H.B. Cannon, WABA secretary.

McKeithen defeated incumbent Harvey Broyles earlier this year to win a post on the three-man commission. He was elected from the north Louisiana district.

He was also a candidate for Lt. Governor on the Spahit ticket in 1952 when he was defeated.

Cannon said the general public would be welcome to attend the Tuesday night meeting. However, non-members will be required to purchase a $1.50 ticket which will cover the cost of the dinner. The businessmen meet at the Barn on Coleman avenue.

Tickets are on sale at Morgan Lindsey, Central Savings branch bank and Mouton's Shoe Store, in West Monroe.

Kennon Foresees Action Next Year On Road Program

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 22 (AP) — Gov. Robert Kennon today saw good chances of speedy legislative consideration next year of a proposed $2,600,000, 15-year highway and road program.

He told a news conference it should be "a major item" in the 1955 session.

Louisiana will have a 30-day Legislature devoted to fiscal matters next May if voters approve a constitutional amendment Nov. 2 calling for annual sessions of the to consider favorably the 31 constitutional amendments on the Nov. 2 ballot.

The Louisiana legislative council, which authorized the 18-month survey of city streets, parish roads and state highways, meets here Oct. 29 to receive the report.

A separate fiscal study, still incomplete, suggests 131 million dollars a year for 20 years will finance the entire program, running about 11 million a year above current spending.

Kennon said: "Between next January and May, we probably will see action on President Eisenhower's national highway program. We should find out then what Louisiana will be able to receive in federal matching funds."

Louisiana was wise in making the survey, Kennon said, because it means when the state is ready to do something about the program it can start off at a trot.

Commenting on hints of tax proposals linked with the proposed road program, Kennon said Louisiana "will find a way to do what the majority of the Legislature wants it to do."

Kennon suggested the state's 50 million dollar highway bond issue and whatever federal matching funds result from President Eisenhower's national highway program will be weaved into the 15-year state plan.

He estimated the federal matching program may mean 300 to 400 million dollars for Louisiana.

Legislature. Kennon commented he found a "general disposition" in the state

'Julius Caesar' Opens Today At Jim Theatre

One of the most talked about and eagerly awaited motion pictures of the year comes to the Jim Theatre for four days beginning Sunday with the showing of "Julius Caesar," M-G-M's filmization of William Shakespeare's famous play.

To bring this powerful drama of the struggle against tyranny and the downfall of a dictator in the Rome of 44 B.C. to the screen, M-G-M brought together an impressive group of stars to head a cast of 50 speaking roles and hundreds of supporting players.

Marlon Brando essays his first Shakespearean characterization in the role of Mark Antony, who avenges the death of Julius Caesar. James Mason is seen as Brutus, "noblest Roman of them all."

John Gielgud, one of the stage's outstanding Shakespearean actors, plays Cassius, leader of the conspirators. Louis Calhern is Julius Caesar. Edmond O'Brien enacts Casca, another of the plotters against Caesar. The picture's two feminine starring roles are played by Greer Garson, as Caesar's wife, Calpurnia, and Deborah Kerr, as Portia, the wife of Brutus.

"Julius Caesar" was directed by Joseph L. Mankiewicz, winner of four Academy Awards. It was produced by John Houseman, producer of Broadway's modern-dress "Julius Caesar" in 1937, and of the recent M-G-M picture, "The Bad and the Beautiful."

A brief summary of the plot of "Julius Caesar" is as follows: Plotting to assassinate Julius Caesar, who has established himself as virtual dictator of Rome, Cassius and Casca win the honorable Brutus over to their side. Caesar is stabbed to death by the plotters, whereupon his devoted friend, Mark Antony, rouses the populace of Rome with an impassioned funeral oration and the conspirators are forced to flee. A battle between two armies takes place at Philippi, one headed by Brutus and Cassius; the other by Mark Antony and Octavius. When the tide turns against them, Cassius orders his slave to kill him and Brutus throws himself upon his sword.

Employment Will Be Subject Of 3 Discussions Here

J. Hadley Heard, administrator of the Louisiana division of employment security, will be in Monroe on October 27, 28 and 29 to deliver messages of vital importance to laundry owners, restaurant owners, wholesale gasoline and oil distributors and service station operators.

The theme of the addresses to be given by Mr. Heard is "How you, the employer, can save money on your unemployment compensation tax and how to obtain and keep good employees."

Mr. Heard will address the laundry owners Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the United Gas service center on Louisiana Avenue. 'Human Jungle' Now Showing At Star Drive In

The inside story of a modern metropolitan police department is dramatically told in "The Human Jungle," Allied Artists' sensational hit co-starring Gary Merrill and Jan Sterling, opening today at the Star Drive In theatre.

The exciting screenplay also reveals how it is possible for a crime syndicate to frame and bring discredit on the innocent head of an honest precinct captain through bribery and brutality. Merrill's role is that of the detective captain, Miss Sterling plays a strip-tease dancer who gives a false alibi in a sensational murder case.

Every facility of the Los Angeles police department was made available to Allied Artists for filming of the picture, which was produced by Hayes Goetz, Marvin E. Mirisch as associate.

Prominent in the cast are Regis Toomey, Emile Meyer, Chuck Connors and Paula Raymond. The picture was directed by Joe Newman.

THE PHANTOM

By
LEE FALK and WILSON MCCOY

WELLS, A FEVER-STRIKEN EXPLORER, IS BROUGHT INTO THE DEEP WOODS, HOME OF THE LEGENDARY PHANTOM.

JUNGLE FEVER. WE'VE NO PROPER DRUGS. YOU'LL REST HERE TONIGHT AND BE TAKEN INTO TOWN TOMORROW.

WHERE AM I?

HALF DELIRIOUS, WELLS STARES AFTER THE STRANGE, POWERFUL FIGURE.

THE MOON IS RISING. IT IS NOW THE HOUR FOR THE CEREMONY OF THE CUP.

EACH YEAR ON THE NIGHT, THE PHANTOM ENTERS THE TEMPLE OF THE DEEP, THE PHANTOM BREEDS HIM.

TO THE FIRST PHANTOM, AND ALL WHO FOLLOWED - GOOD REST.

AM I DELIRIOUS? AM I DREAMING THIS WEIRD PLACE - OR IS IT REALLY HAPPENING? THAT CAVE MOUTH - LIKE A SKULL - THE PHANTOM - THAT CUP?

DOUBTLESSLY YOU HAVE MANY QUESTIONS ABOUT THIS PLACE, ABOUT ME - HOWEVER, I CANNOT ANSWER THEM.

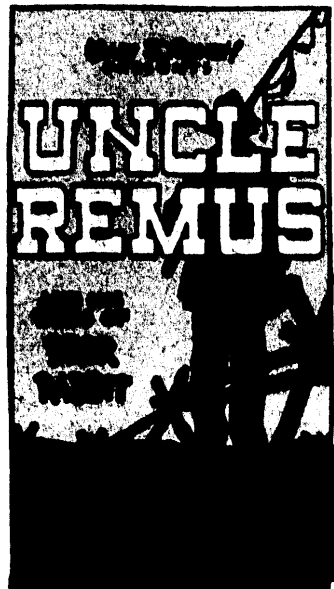

ONE THING - THAT CUP. I AM AN EXPERT ON GLASSWARE. I'VE NEVER SEEN CRYSTAL LIKE THAT.

I DON'T WONDER. IT'S NOT CRYSTAL. IT WAS CUT FROM A SINGLE DIAMOND.
